Creamed Spinach Given Interest

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Ever use pure monosodium glutamate? It comes in canisters and glass shakers and can be sprinkled on foods to intensify their natural flavors. Many famous chefs have been using it for years but only recently have home cooks discovered its value.

Try it in creamed spinach. It brightens the dish.

Easy Creamed Spinach (Serves 4)

One (12-ounce) package frozen chopped spinach, 4 tablespoons butter or fortified margarine, 5 tablespoons flour, 1 cup milk, 1 teaspoon pure monosodium glutamate, salt, pepper and nutmeg to taste.

Remove wrapping from unthawed block of spinach and let stand at room temperature 10 to 15 minutes. Melt butter or margarine in the top of double boiler over direct heat; blend in flour; add milk and cook, stirring constantly until mixture boils and thickens.

With sharp knife, cut the block of spinach into small chunks; add to hot sauce; add monosodium glutamate. Cover and cook over boiling water 15 minutes, stirring occasionally so that as spinach thaws it will blend with the sauce. Season to taste with salt, pepper and nutmeg before serving.

For a delicious main dish, line 4 greased individual casseroles with Easy Creamed Spinach.

Break an egg into each and sprinkle generously with grated cheese. Bake in moderately hot oven (375 deg. F.) about 15 minutes, or until eggs are firm.

Here's a budget dish for hearty eaters.

Spaghetti and Cabbage with Cheese Sauce (4 servings)

Three-quarters cup spaghetti broken in inch pieces; 1/2 tablespoon table fat, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 1/2 tablespoons flour, 1 cup milk, 1/2 lb. cheese grated (about 1 cup), 2 cups shredded cabbage, crumbs mixed with table fat.

Cook the spaghetti in lightly salted boiling water until tender. Drain. Make sauce of the fat, flour, salt and milk. Remove sauce from the heat and add the cheese, stirring until the cheese is melted. Place alternate layers of spaghetti and cabbage in a greased baking dish or pan.

Pour sauce over the top and sprinkle with the crumbs. Cover. Bake about 40 minutes in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) removing cover for the last 15 minutes so crumbs will brown.

Fumes Or Booze? Judge Mulls Defendant's Plea

PASSAIC, N. J. — (AP) — A refrigerator repairman told a judge he wasn't drunk — it was cooling fluid fumes he inhaled while working in a tavern that made him that way.

And what's more, Joseph Gardella said, he was treated for methyl chloride intoxication before. A doctor backed him up and added that sniffing the stuff could lead to a jag similar to liquor. Magistrate Morris Pashman said he'd think it over before deciding the case.

REVOLT SUPPRESSED—Puerto Rican nationalists and suspected Communist sympathizers are lined up and kept under constant guard at an interrogation center in San Juan, Puerto Rico. Scenes such as this marked the collapse of the fanatic revolt which was marked by heavy fighting between nationalists and the National Guard. The rebellion fizzled out with the capture and surrender of more than 400 persons after nearly 30 died in the fighting. The uprising has spurred mass registration by the women of the island for the June 4 elections, when Puerto Ricans will choose their own constitution.

REVOLUTION WAR OF 1812 SPANISH-AMERICAN KOREA

"POLICE ACTION" PROVES COSTLY—American casualties in Korea are just about equal to the combined number suffered by U. S. forces in three previous wars as shown by the Newschart above. Korean figures cover casualties through Oct. 27, latest date for which Defense Department had complete data. Total has been greatly increased by new Chinese-North Korean counter-offensive.

Auto Dealers Carry Credit Ruling to Court

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Automobile dealers complaining that the new credit regulation is wrecking business have asked federal court to block enforcement of the measure.

The group of dealers which filed suit here against the federal reserve board of governors, says that power to make regulation W was not properly delegated to the board, that it violates the due process (fifth amendment) and constitutes "arbitrary and capricious" discrimination against this area.

Regulation W is the measure requiring one-third down payment on a car and only 15 months in which to pay the balance. The dealers, claiming they can not sell cars under the regulation, ask a preliminary injunction pending trial of the case.

October Traffic Deaths In Oregon Total 41

SALEM — (AP) — Forty-one persons died in traffic accidents in Oregon during October, boosting the total so far this year to 323. Secretary of State Newbury said. This year's total, which might reach an all-time record for the whole year, is 17 percent more than for the similar period of last year.

The answers to everyday insurance problems ★
By KEN BAILEY

QUESTION: I am a young man, recently married, with an average income and I don't own my own home. An insurance man tried to tell me I should carry big liability insurance on my car but it seems to me those big policies are for people with a lot of property to protect. Am I right?

ANSWER: Very definitely no! You are just as likely to have an accident as a rich man and what personal property you have wouldn't begin to pay a big judgment against you. In that case a deficiency judgment could be rendered and you might be paying for it out of your future income for many years. Insurance protects you even more than it protects the wealthy man.

★ If you'll address your own insurance questions to this office, we'll try to give the correct answers and there will be no charge or obligation of any kind.

Increase Of GOP Strength In Congress Spells Poorer Chances For Truman Policies

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — (AP) — If you're wondering what Tuesday's elections mean in Congress, here's a brief fill-in.

The Congress due back here this month is the 81st—elected in 1948—and not the 82nd, which you voted for Tuesday.

The two-year term of the 81st, began at noon, Jan. 3, 1949, ends just before noon, Jan. 3, 1951.

And at noon next Jan. 3 the 82nd Congress begins its two-year term.

In the 81st the Democrats had a majority over the Republicans. They'll keep it in the 82nd, but slimmer, as a result of this week's elections.

This majority gives the Democrats a position of power. But because it's slim, they won't be able to ram through any legislation they please.

For example — because they're in a majority, the Democrats will have a majority on all committees. And all committee chairmen will be Democrats.

'Iffy' Possibilities
These committees, of course, are of the utmost importance since it's in them that new laws get their start. For example:

If the 82nd Congress raises income taxes, committees will first examine the whole problem.

And if the full Congress votes an increase, the size and details will be pretty much what the committees decide they should be.

But for President Truman and his followers there's a catch in all this: for instance, take the Senate in the 82nd Congress.

There the Democrats will outnumber the Republicans only 49 to 47. Any time the Republicans show up in full strength and the Democrats are minus three votes, the Republicans' vote will be decisive.

But more than that: it's seldom that Democrats and Republicans line up solidly and vote solidly as a party.

And the narrower the margin between Democrats and Republicans at the start of a vote, the worse the chance for Mr. Truman's ideas to get through since a few switches by the Democrats will help the Republicans.

Less Hope For Health Plans
You can see what that means in something like Mr. Truman's proposal for compulsory health insurance.

In the 81st Congress, where the Democrats' majority was larger, this health program got exactly no where because too many Democrats joined with too many Republicans in opposing it. Now it will have even less chance.

And on some issues, like civil rights, there'll be even smaller chance for the Trumanites to do anything.

On civil rights the Southern Democrats break away from the Truman Democrats. Anytime they do that, the Trumanites wind up in a minority.

And on foreign affairs the Republicans — because of the slim margin between them and the Democrats — are in a stronger position now to have a hand in what's done. You can see why.

Mr. Truman's advisers, in the Defense and State departments, may come up with a program in the foreign field.

But almost any program costs money which has to be voted by Congress. This means Congress can put strong limits on any such program.

Being more powerful than they were in the 81st Congress, the Republicans can pretty much vote a stop or go-ahead signal in the 82nd.

LEAVES REDUCE ACID

Now that leaves are falling, it's a good idea to rake them out of all metal gutters around buildings. Water-soaked leaves often produce an acid condition which corrodes metal, says M. G. Huber, Oregon State college agricultural engineer.
