Arkansas Joins In Plan For Presidency Limit

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — (AP) — The state Senate has approved and sent to the governor a bill making Arkansas the 30th state which would limit presidents to 10 years in office, including two regular, four-year terms.

If and when 36 states have ratified the proposal, it will become the 22nd amendment to the U.S. constitution.

The amendment, which has until March 1954 to win approval of three-fourths of the states to become law, would not affect President Truman. Any future vice-president succeeding to the presidency, however, would not be allowed to run for a second full term if he served more than two years of an unexpired term—thus ten years would be the absolute maximum tenure of any president.
