B. Hill Sinks Last Minute Free Throw To Win Game; Eagles Take Third Place

By GEORGE CASTILLO

News-Review Sports Writer
Oakland high school won the Douglas County "B" league tournament championship at Riddle Friday night on Bob Hill's free throw after the final buzzer. The Oaks edged Elkton, 41-40.

This is how it came about. The two teams had traded baskets all through the final quarter. Then with 35 seconds to go in the game, Hill sank a field goal to put the Oaks ahead, 40-39. With 20 seconds to go, Elkton's John Beckley went up for a shot and was fouled. He sank the first free throw to tie the game, and it looked like a sure overtime. Oakland came down the floor with the ball and Elkton fought desperately to retrieve it. The Oaks failed to notice Hill standing alone under the basket, but the Oaks D. Brownson didn't. He passed to Hill, who went up for the shot just as the game ended. Elkton's Dave Scott tried desperately to stop him and fouled him in the process.

Hill Wins Game
That's when the drama started. Hill had the chance to win the game after it was over. The capacity crowd stood breathless as Hill stepped to the foul line. The first shot bounced harmlessly off ers. Jerry Cade of Drain took scoring honors for his team with 11 points.

Glendale Wins
Glendale took the consolation laurels by defeating Riddle, 49-41, in the evening's opener. Quarter scores, all favoring the winner, were 10-8, 25-24, and 40-33.

Preceding the trophy presentations after the games, ten players were selected to an all-star tournament team by the league's coaches. Included were five guards, three centers and two forwards. Guards were: Dave Rice, Oakland; Carl Hershberger, Elkton; Jim Loyd, Yoncalla; Jerry Cade and Earl Simpson, Drain; John Beckley of Elkton, Gerald Rust of Yoncalla and Bill Duncan of Drain were all named as all-star centers. Forwards selected were Bob Hill of Oakland and Dave Scott of Elkton.

Gorky vs. Stojack Tops Weekly Mat Show At Armory

A three-star professional wrestling show, featuring a show-down and possibly knock-down battle between Soldat Gorky and Frankie Stojack, is certain to attract another capacity crowd at the Roseburg armory arena Saturday night.

Stojack, the coast junior heavy champ from Tacoma, Wash., is out to revenge a beating he suffered at the hands of the Russian villain here several weeks ago. He will not, however, defend his title as demanded by the Siberian wolf-leap expert. Stojack is counting on his ability to absorb punishment and his tremendous airplane spin.

The two supporting bouts will pack plenty of wallop. The show

Ducks' Title Hopes Fade

Huskies Win; Ducks Lose

Beavers Win In Second Half As Webfoots Fold

SEATTLE — (AP) — The University of Washington Huskies won an expected last night—but the Oregon State College Beavers won an expected one.

So today the Huskies sport a one-game lead going into the final games of the Northern Division Pacific Coast conference basketball chase.

The Huskies beat the defending champion Washington State college Cougars, 53-44 before 12,000 fans here last night, while O.S.C. was providing an upset before a home crowd at Corvallis by squeezing past the University of Oregon Webfoots, 41-39.

Huskies and Webfoots had been tied for first place before last night's games. Now the Huskies are a game in front and the worst they can come out with is a tie, should last night's results be reversed in tonight's matches. Last night's W.S.C. setback definitely eliminated the Cougars.

Ducks Take Lead

Oregon took over after a minute and a half and held a handy 24-15 lead before the Beavers slapped the shackles on Oregon's division scoring leader Bob Peterson and inched out in front at 36-35. After Peterson tied it with a free throw the Beavers' Dan Torrey canned a basket to put his club in front for good.

Peterson, who had 181 points up to last night, gleamed but seven more to retain the division scoring lead by three points at 188, Washington's Bob Houbreggs, who caged 19 against W.S.C., moved up to second with 185. Washington's Frank Guisness is third with 177 after collecting 13 last night.

Besides scoring trouble, Peterson had to be escorted to the dressing room by his coach, John Warren. Five seconds before the game ended Peterson was banished for what referee Al Lightner ruled a deliberate pushing foul on Jack Orr. The crowd boomed and Peterson walked into the O.S.C. rooting section. Then Coach Warren took over.

Defensive Battle

At Seattle it was a tight, defensive contest the first half, which ended 29-25 for the Huskies. They edged it up to 32-29 before launching a 16-point spurge in six minutes.

The Huskies controlled the backboards, even during the first half, and when Cougar center George Rosser was thumped out on personals early in the second half, Washington lit the fuse to its winning rally.

Cougars and Huskies play here again tonight. The Oregon State-Oregon series switches to Oregon's home floor in Eugene as the foe hit the tape in both contests.

Pelicans Meet Illinois Valley For Dist. Title; Salem Downs Rooks, 49-37

By MATT KRAMER
Associated Press Staff Writer

Klamath Falls, the state's No. 4 team in the latest Associated Press basketball poll, will get its chance tonight to win a berth in the state high school basketball tournament.

The top-ranking team from their section of the state, the Pelicans will meet Illinois Valley at Klamath Falls after winning from Lincoln Valley last night, 69-45, at Cave Junction in a district 4 playoff game.

A victory would make Klamath Falls the third team assured of a tournament berth. Previously Lincoln and Jefferson of Portland won a berth.

Astoria failed last night in its bid for a tournament position. Seaside upset the Fishermen, 43-42, at Seaside, and threw the district 10 race into a tie. The teams will settle matters in another game at Astoria next weekend.

Play began in the double-elimination district 3 tournament at Redmond with Bend downing Prineville, 33-49, and Redmond measuring Burns, 54-45.

Another tournament, this one in district 8, also opened with Taft defeating Willamina, 34-29, and Central of Monmouth-Independence trimming Sheridan, 52-36.

Sherwood Downs Banks
In the district 9 tourney, another double-elimination affair, Sherwood defeated Banks, 38-34; Beaverton downed Forest Grove, 43-26; and Hillsboro walloped Tigard, 43-26.

The district 12 tourney reached the finals with West Linn edging out Molalla, 40-36, and Milwaukie trampling Canby, 62-27. West Linn and Milwaukie will tangle at Molalla next Friday for the district crown.

There was extensive action in the class B playoffs. District 6-B made the most progress with Moro and Maupin reaching the finals of a tournament at The Dalles. They will tangle tonight for the 6-B title.

One other game—although not in district play—drew attention. That was the powerful Salem Vikings' victory over the Oregon State Rooks, 49-37. It was the first time this year that the Rooks had been defeated by a high school team. Earlier the Rooks downed Central Catholic of Portland, the state's No. 1 team in the basketball poll. Salem was No. 2 in the poll last week.

Riverside Upsets Benson; Rose Squads Post Win; Play Continues Tonight

Riverside's scampering Pee Wees opened the second annual Roseburg Grade School Basketball and Volleyball tournament at the Senior high school Friday night with a resounding upset win over Benson, 12-11.

Both Rose squads came through as expected. The Heavies beat Riverside, 16-12, and the Pee Wees walloped Fullerton, 24-4. The other hoop win was posted by the Fullerton Heavies over Benson, 18-9.

NCAA Adopts TV Controls

Closer Supervision Of Arena Tilts Asked
By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO — (AP) — The N.C.A.A. today had its guard up and a counter-punch cocked for violators of its football television ban. It also recommended tighter collegiate control of basketball at scandal-plagued Madison Square Garden.

In an important session yesterday, the NCAA's policy-making council:

1. Said its March 20-22-24 eastern regional cage meet will be held as scheduled at Madison Square Garden, only because of contractual commitments, but that the show would be off next year without "effective control, management and supervision" by the N.C.A.A.

2. Threatened to expel any member which deliberately televised football this fall beyond an approved realm of experimental controlled video.

The council made it obvious that Madison Square Garden is out for the NCAA cage tourney after this year unless there is a "complete change" in tourney control.

Campus Tilts Encouraged
The council recommended that members hold their athletic competition on their own campuses. If campus facilities are inadequate, non-campus arenas may be used if properly controlled by college sources.

The National Invitational Tournament scheduled at the Garden March 10-17 is beyond the jurisdiction of the NCAA which can dictate tourney sites only for its own championships.

TV Ban Adopted
On the football video subject, the council acted to put teeth in the vote by the full NCAA convention at Dallas, Tex., last January to ban live gridiron television this fall.

If a member "plans" to conduct television on an outlaw basis, it will be branded immediately as a member-not-in-good-standing, barring it from NCAA championship meets.

If the violation actually takes place, the council will recommend expulsion from membership (requiring a two-thirds vote at the annual convention), subjecting it to a schedule boycott in all sports by NCAA members.

Should a school be forced by state legislature to televise, the council will ask its withdrawal from NCAA membership, a punishment that would be loss of face more than anything else, since it still would be able to schedule NCAA members on a "sympathetic" basis.

NCAA President Hugh C. Willett said that at present there was no indication any member would revolt against the television ban.

Hestness And Journal Trap Shoots Slated
The Roseburg Rod and Gun club will hold a 50-bird handicap trap shoot for a leg on the Chris Hestness trophy at the club's grounds near Winchester Sunday.

The Portland Oregon Journal Telegraphic trap shoot competition will also be held at the Winchester shooting grounds Sunday.

The public is invited to compete in both trap shooting events.

the front rim to the mingled sighs and groans of the home sections. You could have heard a pin drop as he lofted the last shot. But in a moment pandemonium reigned. The ball went through without even touching the rim.

It was a bitter blow to the Oaks, who had held a half-time lead of eight points. They had fought an uphill battle after being unable to get one field goal in the first quarter. Then in the second quarter, Dave Scott, whose foul was instrumental in the final outcome, hit a 13-point hot streak to put his Elks ahead, 29-21.

In the third quarter, they hit another scoring drought that allowed the Oaks to move up to within one point, 35-34. From then on it was anybody's game.

Scott was high point man with 15 counters, followed closely by Hill with 14.

Yoncalla Wins
The Drain-Yoncalla battle for third place was another thriller as the Warriors came roaring up on the Elks in the waning minutes. Yoncalla held firm to edge the pre-tournament favorites, 47-43.

As the final minutes ticked away, it appeared that the Yoncalla five was going to let another one slip through its fingers when the game should have been in the bag. On the fine board work and scoring of center Gerald Rust, the Eagles led built up a 29-18 halftime lead and were still ahead by nine points as the final quarter opened, 43-34. Oddly, they made no effort to stall the ball or even try for set-ups. Instead, they started shooting wildly every time they got the ball. They didn't connect for the first six minutes. By that time, Drain was within two points at 43-41. Waters sank a field goal with two minutes to go to move the Eagles to 45-41, but Duncan of Drain pulled his team up by countering with a field goal with 55 seconds to go. The Warriors almost tied it up twice in those final seconds, but Jim Loyd yanked his Yoncalla team out of danger with a galloping lay-in with five seconds to go.

Rust led scorers with 19 count-
