

Huge Bootlegging Traffic In South Stirs Senators

WASHINGTON (AP) — Testimony about a multi-million dollar bootlegging operation in southern states brought demands from senate crime investigators that the liquor industry clean house.

Senator Tobey (R-N.H.) urged calling officials of the distilling business before the crime investigating committee and asking them for a pledge that they will be "clean as a hound's tooth."

Chairman Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said major distillers already have submitted a program to deal with bootlegging and other industry problems but added it was not satisfactory "in a good many respects."

Kefauver also said some new laws are needed to cope with the situation.

The senators spoke out after officials of Tennessee, Georgia and Missouri testified that liquor brought from firms in Cairo, Ill., is being bootlegged into dry states and counties in the southeast.

Clarence Evans, Tennessee's commissioner of finance and taxation, told the committee that two wholesale houses in Cairo, Ill., were doing a $20,000,000 a year business in selling liquor that is delivered to dry sections.

Georgia's revenue commissioner Charles D. Redwine testified $0.043 cases of whiskey were sent from Cairo to Georgia by the U. S. W. nger warehouse from August, 1949, to February, 1950. He called for federal help in combating the bootlegging.

Evans, the first of several state and federal officials called to testify before the special senate crime investigating committee, named the two wholesale liquor companies in Cairo as the Southern and the M. and B.

Life Of Pine Posts Extended By Treatment

Round pine fence posts when treated with a cold soak method will last 15 to 20 years longer than untreated posts.

This statement is made in a new extension circular 541 entitled "Treated Pine Posts Will Last" now ready for distribution by Oregon State college.

The publication says round posts or poles of other wood species can be treated, but pines take better treatment with less work. While any pine species is easy to treat, the bulletin says, lodgepole pine is recommended. It grows throughout eastern Oregon.

The circular, an easy-to-read three-page fold out, gives details on peeling, seasoning and soaking. For example, the circular says that a post to last needs penetration by the preservative material to a depth of at least one-half inch.

THEY BOTH WON

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — On Feb. 19, 1952, Oklahoma's present governor, Johnston Murray, met his future wife, Willia Emerson.

It was at the Huckins Hotel during a state Democratic meeting they were backing different candidates for vice chairman. Murray's man won. Miss Emerson won her man.

Ex-Beauty Queen Charges Illegal Marriage In Suit

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Kay Buckley, 29-year-old actress and former "Miss Philadelphia," has filed a $1,500,000 damage suit against J. Arthur Warner, New York stock broker, charging that he talked her into going through a marriage ceremony at Juarez, Mexico, last Jan. 22 that he knew was illegal.

She alleged in her suit that Warner was aware he was not legally divorced from a previous wife, Alene Warner of Greenwich, Conn. She requested the California court to grant an annulment of her Mexican marriage, which took place less than an hour after Warner had won a Mexican divorce decree.

Miss Buckley's suit charged Warner broke promises to her for years, that he bought her valuable stocks, got her power of attorney to sell them but neglected to give her the proceeds; gave her $95,000 as a wedding present but has filed legal action to recover it; gave her a diamond bracelet, took it back and hasn't returned it.

She wants the money, stocks, sale proceeds and the bracelet returned.

Three March Courses Slated At Oregon State

OREGON STATE COLLEGE — Foresters, water works operators and truck drivers will leave their regular daily tasks for book learning at three March short-courses conducted by Oregon State college.

Seven agencies will sponsor the third annual aerial photo short-course designed to meet the needs of the practicing forester. The course is scheduled March 20 to 24 at OSC.

Water supply fluoridation and radioactivity will dominate discussions at the water works operators short-course at OSC March 19 to 23. The Oregon State Board of Health, American Water Works association and the League of Oregon Cities are sponsoring the meet.

A motor fleet supervisors' training course will be held March 19 to 23 at the Oregon Motor Stages meeting room, Portland. The in-circulation of daily newspapers in the United States reached a record high of 877,000 a day last year, according to a survey conducted by N. W. Ayer & Son.

In its 83rd edition of directory of newspapers and periodicals, N. W. Ayer said the circulation represents an increase of more than two and a half million copies over 1949. It was the 11th straight year in which newspapers have enlarged the number of their readers, the report said.

The country's 390 morning papers increased their circulation nearly three-quarters of a million to 29,896,000. The 1,497 afternoon papers gained more than two million for a total of 33,037,000.

The 574 Sunday newspapers, regaining ground lost in 1949, reported an all-time high of 45,747,000. A total of 234 publications of all types suspended operations during 1950, but 316 were started.

Pacific University Cuts Staff, Boosts Tuition

FOREST GROVE (AP) — Pacific university has cut sharply into its staff in a budget-balancing effort prompted by an expected enrollment drop.

Thirteen full-time faculty members will not return next year. There also will be some cuts in the administrative staff, the trustees reported.

Among the 13 are some who had already made other plans for next year. They will not be replaced. Coincidentally with the faculty slash, basketball Coach Hal Wolf announced his resignation because of "lack of facilities and things just look too indefinite." He will not be replaced, the present coaching staff filling in, Dr. Edwin T. Ingles, vice-president, said.

The trustees took the staff-cutting action when advised that educational staff consists of 11 transportation experts. The OSC civil engineering department has organized the course.
