Triplets Born To Wife Of School Student. 23

PASADENA, Calif. — (AP) — John S. Bonner isn't out of school yet, but he's already the father of triplets. They were born Monday to his wife, Betty. Doctors put them in incubators and said all are doing nicely. Both parents are 33. Bonner, whose home is in Houston, Tex., is a graduate student in chemical engineering at California Institute of Technology. The new arrivals — first of the family — are two daughters, Barbara Allison and Mary Elizabeth, and a son, John Franklin. They tipped the scales at a total just under 14 pounds.

Defendant Will Appeal $67,000 Damage Verdict

Circuit Judge Carl E. Wimberly has issued an extension of time to the defendant Los Angeles-Seaside Motor Express, Inc. to allow filing of an appeal to the state supreme court. The company was granted until April 18, 1951, to tender a bill of exceptions and file the transcript of appeal. The company is appealing a circuit court jury verdict against it for $67,000. The jury decided in favor of plaintiff R. K. Shelton for that amount late last year to cover physical injuries received by the plaintiff, when a Klamath Packing Co. truck allegedly struck the plaintiff's car while passing the Los Angeles truck, which was parked on highway 99 near Anlauf Orders in Other Cases. In other court action, a default judgment was issued by Judge Wimberly against Eugene W. Powell, doing business as the Master Photo studio, for $123.09. The judgment was issued on the motion of plaintiff Credit Service Co. The order also forced attachment of property owned by the defendant until payment is made on the judgment. Another judgment issued by the court ordered the State Industrial Accident commission to increase disability payments to Charles W. Stackhouse, who allegedly suffered an injury to his hand on Mar. 19, 1950. A permanent partial disability increase from 50 percent to 75 percent was ordered. The State Unemployment Compensation commission filed a suit against Hazel Anderson and Jasper B. Cox, doing business as the Club cafe, for $53.55 allegedly remaining due for unpaid employer contributions. Glen J. and Marie Ellis Byers have filed a suit to quiet title against Reita, and Ila Myers and others. The property involved is located at the intersection of Military and Corey avenues in Roseburg.

Entire Columbia Tuna Pack Sold

ASTORIA — (AP) — The entire high grade 1950 Columbia river salmon pack of 199,331 cases has been sold from Astoria warehouses and most of the lower grades are in the hands of brokers, a survey of packers has revealed. Considerable quantities of tuna also have been moved to market, but not all the 1950 tuna pack has been sold. Heavy imports of Japanese tuna, coupled with a record California pack, have helped saturate the market, local tuna producers said. The industry reported that it had found a wave of "scare buying" tapering off. Lower prices were predicted. The Pacific Fisherman, year-book of the industry, reported that the 1950 salmon pack was the fourth poorest in the history of the area. The total pack of 11 canneries at the Columbia was valued at $6,534,170. Albacore tuna production was the best since 1948. Over 594,000 cases were packed locally. Long Island is the largest island in continental United States with 1,723 square miles.

Young Oregonian Vaudeville Troupe Slates Show March 21 At Roseburg Junior High

Thirty-five youthful vaudeville experts, members of the Young Oregonian traveling Talent Troupe, and their six-piece swing orchestra will stage a free show March 21 in Roseburg Junior high school at 8 p.m. The Roseburg Elks club sponsors the show. The public is invited. Youngest star of the show is six-year-old Vonda Lee Conner, Portland Y.O. member who sings with her heart and hulas like a native. Chalk talk, magic, impersonations, unicycle riding, baton twirling, tap, tumbling and a 17-girl pyramid act have been selected from Young Oregonian activity groups to make the 16th annual spring vacation tour. A host of other musical and novelty numbers are billed featuring Y.O. members from Garibaldi, Jordan Valley, West Linn, Tigard and Portland. 57,000 Membership. Showing in 10 or more cities with additional appearances at hospitals and radio broadcasts is nothing for these troupers, according to Ernest "Amby" Amburn, well-known northwest youth director and head of The Oregonian's young people's organization. Amburn said that the 57,000 Y.O. active membership of boys and girls between six and 18 is represented in all the cities on the '51 tour and shows in Dallas, Eugene, Cottage Grove, Coos Bay, Coquille, Roseburg, Camp White, Grants Pass, Medford, Klamath Falls and Junction City. The Y.O. Talent Troupe is the only non-profit touring group of its kind in the state, and during the past 16 years has traveled more than 31,000 miles.

MAGICIAN—Ralph Thomas is shown demonstrating a feat of magic. His is one of many acts which will be presented March 21 when the Young Oregonian talent show appears at Roseburg Junior high school.

HUSBAND BEATER—Mrs. Peggy Lou Brooks, 135-pound wife of a Houston, Tex., fireman, is charged in court with beating her 250-pound husband. Mr. Brooks filed the charges.

THE MUSIC GOES ON—Heinz Arnts, 51, is shaved during 11th hour at the piano keyboard in a Frankfurt, Germany, restaurant, in effort to break his mark of 175 hours of playing.

Dr. Ralph Pearson, above, a physician and surgeon, was in familiar surroundings Friday when he established himself as a medical practitioner in Roseburg, occupying the offices of the late Dr. L. M. Lehrbach in the Medical Arts Building. Dr. Pearson married a Roseburg girl, the former Venela Kruse, 25 years ago, and, although never living here, the Pearsons have been frequent visitors. Numerous relatives live in this area. His colorful background includes service in Korea early in his career as a missionary and more recently as a physician; 11 years as a physician at the Portland sanitarium; and post-graduate work at the Mayo clinic in Rochester, Minn., and Cook county hospital, Chicago. Mrs. Pearson and their nine-year-old children, Anita Jane and Bert, will remain in Portland until the current school year ends in June. Dr. Pearson and Dr. George Rue were in charge of the Seventh-Day Adventist mission hospital in Seoul, Korea, from the spring of 1948 until last fall, when they were evacuated. Dr. and Mrs. Pearson spent seven years in the Orient as missionaries directly after their marriage.

Bill To Erase Legal Holidays Gets New Study

By PAUL W. HARVEY JR. SALEM — (AP) — The Oregon Senate argued for an hour Monday about a House-passed bill to eliminate Lincoln's birthday, Washington's birthday and election days as legal holidays. Then it sent the bill to its law committee for technical corrections. The bill came before the upper house with a 3 to 2 recommendation by its state and federal affairs committee that the bill be defeated. It brought about an oddity, with Democrats pleading to keep a holiday honoring Abraham Lincoln, patron saint of the Republican party. Sen. Ben Day, Medford, argued that nobody but state employees observes the holidays which would be eliminated, and he said it would save the state $20,000 a year. He pointed out that the bill would call for state employees and school children to have commemorative services of one-hour each on Lincoln's and Washington's birthdays. But the Democrats asked not only that those holidays be retained, but also, that Columbus day be restored as a legal holiday. The 1949 legislature eliminated Christopher Columbus from the picture. During the debate, Sen. Richard L. Neuberger, Portland Democrat, protested against sending the bill to committee, asserting that this practice has a lot to do with slowing up the legislature. He cited newspaper criticism that the present legislature is the slowest one in history. Sen. Warren Gill, Lebanon, took issue with the press. He said that by not passing a lot of bills and refusing to pass legislation restricting people's rights, the legislature is making fast progress. The vote to send the bill to committee was 19 to 11.

Italian Bombs Jar U.S. Embassy

ROME — (AP) — Fourteen persons are held for investigation after small bombs exploded Monday night outside the U. S. embassy and Italy's foreign ministry. The two explosions broke window panes and panicked passers-by, but no one was injured. Police said bits of a handwritten leaflet found near the explosion at the foreign ministry were signed "La Legiona Nera" — "The Black Legion." Another similar leaflet found near the scene said: "While the government of renunciation trades off Italian Trieste, the Fascists avenge the honor of Italy and of Mussolini." Premier De Gasperi and Foreign Minister Carlo Sforza began conferences on Trieste and other problems in London today with top British officials. Both Italy and Yugoslavia are claiming Trieste, which was taken from Italy by her World War II peace treaty. Men spend more money annually in Oregon barber shops than women do in beauty parlors, according to the Census Bureau. Annual barber shop receipts amount to $4,586,000 compared with beauty parlor receipts of $4,177,000.

Stolen Shoes All For One Foot; Loser Bids

SAN FRANCISCO — (AP) — Los Angeles salesman Robert Silverstein says he will make a trade with the thief who stole two cases of shoe samples from his car. All the shoes were for the right foot, said Silverstein. "But he also got my brief case, with my audit books, price lists and list of accounts," the salesman declared. "I'll let him keep the shoes and give him matching ones if he'll return my brief case."

Hiss' Conviction Of Perjury Denied High Court Review

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The supreme court Monday refused to review the perjury conviction of Alger Hiss. The refusal lets stand Hiss' conviction and five-year sentence given him in a jury's finding that he lied in denying he fed government secrets to Russia from his high State department office. Justices Reed, Frankfurter and Clark disqualified themselves from considering Hiss' appeal. Reed and Frankfurter testified as character witnesses for Hiss at his first trial in federal court in New York but not at the second trial which resulted in the conviction. Clark was attorney general at the time the government prepared its case against Hiss. Hiss was convicted on Jan. 21, 1950 and has been free on $10,000 bail pending supreme court action on his appeal. His first trial ended July 8, 1949, with the jury deadlocked 8 to 4 for conviction. Hiss now can ask the high court to reconsider its refusal to accept his appeal. If that request is turned down — and the courts' agreement to reconsider is rare — the former high level State department official will have to go to prison and begin serving his sentence. In New York, Chester T. Lane, counsel for Hiss, said that the matter of a request for reconsideration had not been discussed, and he thought such move unlikely. Hiss, through his attorneys, issued a statement which said in part: "The efforts of the committee on un-American activities, vociferously supported by like-minded elements in the press, succeeded in making a fair jury trial impossible in the present atmosphere of public tension. . . . My attorneys and friends will continue to search for the facts which will show how (Whittaker) Chambers fabricated the evidence against me." Other Court Actions. In other actions, the supreme court: 1. Agreed to say whether daily Bible reading in New Jersey public schools violates the federal constitution. A number of other states similarly require Bible reading to pupils. 2. Denied James A. Moffett, former New Dealer, a hearing in his multi-million-dollar suit against the Arabian-American Oil Co. company to collect for services performed with President Roosevelt, Harry Hopkins and other government officials. 3. Denied the government a new hearing in its legal battle to keep possession of more than $8,000,000 worth of common stock of the Dollar steamship line. 4. Declined to unravel a legal tangle caused by conflicting orders of two U. S. district judges in affairs of the Lustron corporation which has defaulted on more than $36,500,000 it borrowed from the Reconstruction Finance corporation to launch an experiment in mass production of prefabricated houses. More than 44 million dollars a year are spent in Oregon for personal services in barber shops, beauty parlors, laundries, cleaning and dyeing establishments, etc., according to the Census Bureau.

Kiwanians Tour Telephone Office

A tour of the Roseburg Telephone office was conducted by the Roseburg Kiwanis club members by telephone company department heads Tuesday. The tour was arranged by Manager R. J. Henwood, as the program feature of the club's weekly meeting Tuesday noon. After the regular luncheon in the Hotel Umpqua the members adjourned to the telephone office. The members were taken in groups through the building, and functions of the intricate operation of the dial equipment, as well as long distance calls, testing and other phases of the plant's operation, were explained. President James E. Slattery reported the Kiwanis board had voted honorary membership to Jack Wharton, a charter member, who no longer qualifies for membership through his business status. Slattery also announced that the club has given up its charter as sponsor of the Explorer Scout troop. This group has been taken over by the Methodist church. Bruce Voeller, Key club representative from the high school group is presenting the operetta "The Mikado" at the school Thursday and Friday nights.

Colleges Unite In Plan For Teacher Education

PORTLAND — (AP) — Five independent colleges have agreed to join the Oregon system of higher education in a cooperative joint degree elementary teacher education program, the State Board of Higher Education, meeting here, was told. Dr. Robert J. Maaske said Willamette university, Cascade college, Linfield college, University of Portland and Reed college will cooperate in preparing prospective elementary teachers under a five-year emergency plan. Similar programs have been arranged with the University of Oregon, Oregon State college, Vanport and the general extension division at Portland, Maaske said. With seven other educational institutions already providing a four-year elementary education program, Dr. Maaske said facilities for elementary teachers are now ample.
