Assessor Exam Bill Voted Down In State Senate

By PAUL W. HARVEY JR. SALEM — (AP) — Two bills to make candidates for county assessor take state examinations and to make the office non-partisan were defeated by the state Senate.

The assessor examination bill was beaten 16 to 11, and then the bill to take politics out of the office was defeated 14 to 13.

Both bills were prepared by the senate tax committee, which said that approval of the bills would result in greater efficiency in assessing property, and would remove the assessors from political pressure.

Declaring that the bills are "a step backward in a free democracy," Sen. Ben Musa, The Dalles, said the examination measure would give an administrative body power that belongs to the people.

This bill provided that every candidate for assessor would take examinations from the state civil service commission. Those who passed would have their names published, but the bill would not have prevented the candidacy of anyone who failed to pass.

Sen. Eugene E. Marsh, McMinnville, said the bills "would improve the qualifications of assessors."

Committee chairman Howard C. Belton, Canby, said assessing is becoming more complex all the time, and that trained men are needed in the job.

The opponents of the non-partisan measure said it would tend to break down the two-party system of government.

Three Bills Passed The Senate passed and sent to the House two bills which would take inflationary pressure off of convicts and candidates for the legislature.

One bill would give $50 to discharged convicts, and $25 to pardoned convicts. Ever since 1913, this amount has been only $5.

The other measure would let legislative candidates spend up to $400 in their campaigns, compared with $100 now. Candidates for higher offices also would benefit. Their new limits would be 25 percent of a year's salary for each election campaign, compared with present limits of 15 percent for primary elections, and 10 percent for general elections.

Another bill passed by the Senate and sent to the House would let the public utilities commissioner fine truckers $100 for each violation of tariffs and PUC rules and regulations. The only penalty now permitted is either revocation or suspension of the trucker's permit.

Willamette River Claims Life Of Youth

PORTLAND — (AP) — A 15-year-old youth who tried to swim from a sinking rowboat drowned in the Willamette river near here Monday.

The boy, Larry Kingsley, Milwaukie, and a companion, Jimmy Kirwan, 17, also of Milwaukie, attempted to salvage an abandoned rowboat, found near the Rock Island moorage.

They were both in the boat when the current caught it and carried it away. When the boat started to sink young Kingsley jumped out and tried to swim ashore. Kirwan, noting his struggles, said he dived into the water, but Kingsley went down before he could reach him.

AT FULLERTON Rev. Schaefer Discusses China Before PTA Group

PARENT-Teacher associations throughout this country are "encouraging the world-wide interchange of ideas and cultural achievements" as advocated by the U. S. Commission for UNESCO in order to increase "the faith of other peoples in the American goals of international good will, understanding and peace."

To further this understanding of other cultures, Fullerton PTA had as guest speaker March 5, the Rev. Raymond Schaefer, minister of the First Baptist church of Roseburg, who spoke on "China, Yesterday and Today," drawing from a background of six years in China.

Traditional Friendship Americans have the advantage of finding most of the Chinese people friendly because of traditional friendship, according to the Rev. Mr. Schaefer. He pointed out that China is a strongly nationalistic country, and for that reason is willing to countenance outside domination only as long as there is something to be gained. He sees seeds of discontent where the Communists have taken over; for the Communist regime has not fulfilled the promise of better living conditions on that it rode into power. The Rev. Mr. Schaefer stated that China will listen to anyone who will promise her "a full rice bowl," but if that promise is not made good, she will look elsewhere.

The nominating committee for securing candidates for officers was elected by the membership. It consisted of Mrs. Bernard Young, Harold Backen and Mrs. J. A. Caraway.

Convention Stated It was noted that the annual convention of the Oregon Congress of Parents and Teachers is to be held in Seaside this year April 24, 25 and 26. Money was budgeted at the beginning of the year to send the newly elected president and vice president as delegates.

A report of the tuition scholarship committee re-emphasized the fact that an effort is being made to encourage outstanding high school seniors who wish to go into the study of elementary teaching to apply for state PTA scholarships. Applications must be completed by April 15.

Reading Material Needed Mrs. Johnson again urged all who are in touch with individual service men in Korea to send reading material directly to them because there is still a great shortage and no freight provision for sending any large quantities.

Mrs. Caraway's room was the right to play host to the ant colony by having the most parents in attendance at the meeting.

Hostesses for the March meeting were the fifth grade mothers under the supervision of Mrs. L. Parkinson and Mrs. Harold Backen, hospitality co-chairmen, who served cherry pie and coffee during the social hour.

The next regular meeting of Fullerton PTA will be held April 28.
