Transfer Of Milk Control To Farm Board Is Voted

SALMON — (AP) — Indicating it doesn't want any drastic changes in the state milk control law, the Senate voted 24 to 4 to transfer administration of milk control from the state milk administrator to the State Board of Agriculture.

The bill, which also would require that butterfat content be put on milk containers, goes to the House.

The action, opposed by four Democrats who want extensive revision of milk control, now leaves it squarely up to the House food and dairy committee to decide whether the milk control law should be amended or repealed.

Portland's affiliated milk committee, which claims to represent 17,000 households, wants all price controls removed at the retail and distributor level. But it would keep these controls for the producers.

country has been acclaimed as one of the greatest cellists of the day.

The Senate beat down 20 to 9 a motion by Sen. Rex Ellis, Pendleton, to wipe out the civil service system for state employees.

He made the motion during discussion of a bill to let the governor suspend civil service hiring procedures if an emergency causes a critical shortage of employees. The bill then was passed and sent to the House.

The House defeated 34 to 24 a bill to prevent any more chain demonstrations from being established.

A bill to raise the $4 daily pay of election judges to 75 cents an hour was passed by the House and sent to the Senate.
