House Vote Takes Away 'Tolerance' For Excess Hauls, Sets Fines Rate

By PAUL W. HARVEY JR.

SALEM — (A) — The log truckers, who fought long and hard against the state highway commission's bill to levy stiffer fines for overloading, shifted their attack to the Senate today after Wednesday's 44-16 house approval of the bill.

The bill takes away the "toler-ance," under which the logs trucks can carry 10 percent overloads

Oregon Campaign Aided

The firemen's union contributed $3,500 to aid Governor Dewey in his presidential primary campaign in Oregon in 1948, the probe committee learned.

Crane, testified the union gave the money to Mr. Crews, presumably Brooklyn Republican leader John R. Crews, to be used in the campaign. But it does make a concession to the log trucks. While the normal limit for a pair of dual axles is 64,000 pounds, the bill would allow 34,000 pounds on one set of dual axles if the other set is limited to 30.800. to 30,000.
