World Sulphur Shortage Brings Appeals To U.S.

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK — (AP) — Uncle Sam has been having trouble in getting from his friends the tin, rubber and wool he needs at prices he wants to pay.

The sulphur shortage is now world wide and the clamor is growing. The United States produces 90 percent of this chemical which is essential to many industries.

"Our record production of brimstone—from which about 80 percent of essential sulphuric acid is made—just disappeared last year."

The official price is $21 to $22 a ton. But we have heard that one factory owner who needed sulphur badly for his production, paid $100 a ton recently for a supply here in New York harbor.

Normally the United States exports around one million tons a year, but the National Production authority has cut that back to an annual rate of 800,000 tons.

British industries and the Canadian newspaper mills are squawking. A top British official, Harold Wilson, chief of the board of trade, is planning to fly to Washington to beg for more sulphur.

American farm leaders are also worried because sulphur is also used in combatting crop pests.

Pay Hike Slated To Halt France's Wave Of Strikes

PARIS — (AP) — Premier Queuille today prepared to offer French workers a more than 10 percent salary boost in an effort to halt the spreading wave of strikes, which have crippled the nation's rail system.

He said the cabinet will take action later in the day on the report from a special commission on collective bargaining.

The commission reported that the cost of living in France has risen more than 12 percent since last August.

It recommended that the government boost the national basic minimum wage by 12.5 percent to correspond with higher living costs.

It is estimated that there are more than 50,000 lumber mills now operating in the United States.

Bob Richards Captures John Muir Decathlon

PASADENA, Calif. — (AP) — The Rev. Bob Richards, pole-vaulter La Verne college teacher, captured the John Muir college open decathlon with 7,480 points and he racked up 1,071 of them yesterday by doing 14 feet, 3 inches in his specialty, the pole vault.

Richards, one of three men to exceed 15 feet in the pole vault, threw the javelin 180 feet, 2 inches; threw the discus 120 feet, ran the high hurdles in 15.4 seconds, the 1,500 meters in four minutes, 57.7 seconds, and in Tuesday's competition won or tied for first in all five events.

Richards, formerly of the University of Illinois and now representing the Illinois Athletic club, set a meet record in the decathlon, the former being 6,907 points by Brayton Norton of Santa Ana, J. C., last year.
