church; an open forum will follow the address.

Both meetings are open to the general public without admission charge, according to the Rev. Mr. MacArthur. Everyone interested in discussing a situation related to the tense world situation is invited to attend. The meetings in Roseburg are part of a nation-wide tour which Dr. Page is making under the auspices of the American Friends Service Committee. Contributions will be received at the evening session on behalf of this group.

The supper meeting at the First Methodist church will be potluck, and everyone is asked to bring their own picnic basket.

Dr. Page is best known as the author of 26 volumes and 30 pamphlets, many of which have been translated into foreign languages. Among his books are "The Will of God For These Days" and "The Light Is Still Shining In The Darkness." His most recent book is "Living Joyously." He is widely known for his dynamic speaking ability.

Berthard Fedde, acting executive secretary of the Portland regional office of the American Friends Service committee (Quakers) will also be present at the meetings.

BACON BEST SELLER

CORVALLIS — (AP) — The meat most often served in Oregon homes? It's bacon. Dr. C. W. Vroman of Oregon State college says.

He said the college experiment station conducted a survey in cities throughout the state, and a list of 100 homes in Corvallis found that in picking pork cuts, the housewife almost invariably prefers a lean cut.

As a result, hog growers may be advised to concentrate on leaner type hogs, he said.
