Fibre Company Plans Wood Chipping Plant At Eugene

LONGVIEW, Wash. — (P) — R. S. Wertheimer, resident manager of the Longview Fibre company, announced here plans for early construction of a plant to produce wood chips in the Eugene, Ore., area.

Wertheimer said that expansion of production by the fibre company, which manufactures pulp and paper products, has made necessary an overall enlargement of the raw materials program. The Eugene chipper plant is part of that expansion.

A new paper machine, which will go into production in June, will boost the fibre company's daily production to approximately 700 tons of paper and paperboard products.

Wertheimer said the new chipping plant will be designed to receive clean, four-foot length wood, which will be trucked from sawmills in the Willamette valley area. After the wood is chipped, the chips will be screened and then shipped to Longview in specially designed railway cars.

Wertheimer pointed out that the new plant will further expand the fibre company's influence on conservation of resources in the forest industry. The company manufactures a large part of its pulp and paper from wood which otherwise would be wasted by the sawmills.

Entire Village Being Moved For Mill Project

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — (P) — Eastport, a village of about 200 persons a few miles northeast of here on the St. Johns river, is being moved—chimney, doorstep and roof top.

The first of 35 houses opposite the new St. Regis Paper company mill site on Eastport road was moved to a new location. Within three months, all the houses will be gone.

St. Regis has no definite plans at present for the Eastport village site but is clearing it for possible industrial expansion.

Net income of U. S. farmers in 1950 was about $13 billion — 27 percent below the postwar peak in 1947.

Movie Career Desired
By Margaret Truman

HOLLYWOOD — (P) — Margaret Truman would like to become an actress as well as continuing her singing career.

She "might consider motion pictures," she told a news conference upon her arrival to participate in a radio play. She said she has had movie offers but has been too busy with radio and record work to consider them.

The President's daughter will appear opposite James Stewart in a Screen Directors guild playhouse presentation of the play "Jackpot." She will play Stewart's wife and the mother of two children. Miss Truman would "like to do both singing and acting from now on," she said. Her dramatic experience so far has been confined to high school and college plays. She has just finished a concert tour and plans to make another next fall.

1 1/2 cups sugar
3 tsp. double-action baking powder
1 tsp. salt
1 cup Snowdrift
1 cup milk
