gation "about as fast as he did in the ill-fated Yalu offensive." Kerr said in a statement that MacArthur had claimed support of top military men for his Korean war strategy, but that Secretary of Defense Marshall "completely refuted this," Kerr added. "No contrary information has come from General MacArthur's loquacious press secretary, Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, who keeps the world informed daily from his pulp precincts in New York's Waldorf-Astoria hotel."

Rights-Of-Way For W. Roseburg Road Deferred

No rights-of-way are being purchased yet for the proposed highway construction through West Roseburg, according to Don Norlin, right-of-way supervisor for division 3 of the Oregon state highway department. Purchases will not be made until maps and rights-of-way descriptions have been received from the Salem office, said Norlin. This is not expected until some time in June. Norlin qualified his statement by saying negotiations have been underway with two concerns, where large property holdings have been involved, primarily to establish the exact location of the proposed highway. Numerous inquiries have been made to the Roseburg office of the highway department by persons whose property might be affected. Norlin said he could give them no answers as yet. He advised that they be patient and that the property owners will be contacted in due time.

Rabbit Breeders Hold Meeting In Winston Hall

The regular meeting of the Umpqua Valley Rabbit Breeders' association was held at the Community hall in Winston on Tuesday evening, with a large crowd reported in attendance. The business meeting was conducted by the president, H. A. Cummins, after which research station movies of poultry, cattle, rabbits, hogs and other domestic animals, were shown. Later colored slides were shown relative to diseases and control, which annually take a large toll of the meat intended for the dinner table. On hand to present the pictures was a representative of the Albers' Milling company, and a local field representative. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Roseburg Father Receives Medal Of Son, Killed While Fighting On Korean Front

FORT LEWIS, Wash. — Lewis Kibler of Roseburg, received a Silver Star medal, awarded posthumously to his son, on May 12. Pfc. Linn E. Kibler was killed in action in Korea.

RECEIVES SON'S MEDAL — A Silver Star medal is being posthumously awarded Lewis Kibler, above, Roseburg, for his son, who was cited for gallant action in Korea. Private First Class Linn E. Kibler was killed in combat near Kunuri, Brig. Gen. Leroy H. Watson is shown as he makes the presentation. (U.S. Army photo)

The Silver Star, awarded by Brig. Gen. Leroy H. Watson, Fort Lewis commanding general, was presented in recognition of Pfc. Kibler's gallantry in combat in Korea on Armistice Day, Nov. 11, 1950.

Pfc. Kibler sacrificed his life in attempting to carry a wounded comrade to safety while under heavy enemy machine gun fire near Kunuri, Korea.

The Silver Star was presented to Kibler at the largest awards and decorations ceremony at Fort Lewis since the outbreak of the Korean War. Twelve other awards, seven being posthumous, were presented.

More than 3,500 steel helmeted troops paraded in honor of the military heroes.

The citation to Pfc. Kibler reads: "Private First Class Linn E. Kibler, Company C, 7th Cavalry Regiment, 1st Cavalry Division, for gallantry in action against the enemy on Nov. 11, 1950. During his company's attack to accomplish the mission of crossing approximately 500 yards of open farm land and capturing high dominating ground on the far side, Pfc. Kibler saw a comrade fall wounded by enemy fire."

"With complete disregard for his own safety, Pfc. Kibler voluntarily moved through the heavy enemy machine gun, automatic weapons and small arms fire to render emergency medical treatment to the wounded man. Then, courageously, Pfc. Kibler attempted to carry him to safety but in doing so was killed by enemy machine gun fire."

Pfc. Kibler's outstanding display of gallantry and supreme sacrifice are in keeping with the highest traditions of the service and reflect great credit on himself and the military service."

College Students' Draft Awaits Aptitude Tests

WASHINGTON — Drafting of college students has been ordered postponed until they have a chance to provide their draft boards with aptitude-test scores or evidence of scholastic standing.

Selective service headquarters told state directors, however, that no inductions will be postponed beyond Aug. 29.

The state officials also were reminded of earlier instructions to postpone inductions of college and high school students for 30 days beyond the end of the academic year to enable them to find essential jobs or enlist for service.

The aptitude tests will be given at college testing centers throughout the nation during the next two months.

Riddle Soldier Given Good Conduct Medal

Private George G. Gibson of Riddle has been awarded the Good Conduct medal in Korea, where he is serving with the First Cavalry division.

The decoration was awarded him in recognition of having completed three years of exemplary service in the army. A soldier must have achieved a character rating of "excellent" throughout the three-year enlistment to receive the medal.

Private Gibson is the son of George Gibson.

egy is important and everybody ought to be concerned about it. "But there are a lot of other problems that are equally important. We have the hard problems of defense production, taxes and stabilization, for example. Unless we face those problems, we won't be able to have military strategy at all." He added: "Our country faces the danger of war from an aggressive and imperialistic foreign power. Meeting this danger is all-important. We should all stand together. "I think that some people fail to realize that this threat is very real. They think there is still time to play politics. "That is a terribly dangerous attitude. We must all get together behind a program adequate to meet the perils we face. We must get together now—without waiting—without playing politics. "Our defense program and our defense production must come ahead of everything else. . . . Wrong decisions in this day and age may wreck the country, once and for all."

Must Have More Taxes — Mr. Truman said "we have got to have more taxes if we are to pay for our defense program and hold down inflation."

"Taxes are not so hard to take if everybody pays his fair share, in accordance with his ability to pay," he added. "But if we let the special groups come in and riddle the tax program with special exemptions, we won't have a good tax program, or a fair tax program. We won't be able to balance the budget, and we won't be able to stop inflation." The President said he had no doubt that Congress will vote a two-year extension of economic controls. And he said this country must build more factories, provide greater electric power and additional housing and turn out ever greater quantities of planes, tanks and guns to make itself and its Allies ready for "an all-out attack."
