Gigantic Offensive Of Reds In Korea May Compel U.S. To Employ Atomic Artillery

2 col lead GIGANTIC OFFENSIVE — 24 — Inside alma

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — (AP) —The climax of the long battle for Korea appears at hand.

The present attacks by the Chinese Reds seem to be the initial phase of the gigantic offensive they have been building toward for more than three months.

Can the allies stop it this time? The Peiping radio has renewed its boast that the U. N. forces will be driven into the sea. It says the Red troops already have shown that "the United States is nothing but a paper tiger which can be completely defeated in due time."

The climactic struggle on the actual battlefield begins with the American Congress and the American people still divided in "the great debate" over how best to win victory in Korea.

But whether the MacArthur or the administration military policy is followed, no quick end to the war is in sight. The average G. I. feels the rotation system is more likely to get him out of Korea than a sudden allied triumph.

Chiang Kai-shek has added a realistic and depressing footnote to the situation. The generalissimo says that even if his Formosa army of 500,000 had all the supplies it needed, it would still take him six months to launch an attack on the Chinese mainland.

How about bombing Chinese supply bases in Manchuria, as General MacArthur has recommended? Army circles feel American airpower would be promptly unleashed to do this very thing—if the Red planes ever begin serious bombing and strafing attacks on our ground troops. Public opinion here would probably force this measure.

But would this mean a quick end to the campaign? Most professional military men doubt it. Our airpower can wear down the enemy by steady attrition; but it cannot stab him to death. The peculiar nature of an Oriental foot army makes it the most difficult type of army for airpower to destroy.

ATOMIC GUNS MAY BE USED

What then can end the Korean war? The present policy still seems to be to go on killing trained Red troops until they are unwilling to accept her vast losses.

That leaves two questions in Korea. Can our army protect itself in the face of the tidal waves of enemy infantry now being hurled at it? Is there any method by which we can destroy more Chinese than we have been?

The answer to the second question lies in whether the American army has certain secret weapons ready for use—and whether, if they are ready, it intends to use them in Korea.

Chief among them is atomic artillery. Army Chief of Staff Collins once said he had seen nothing to convince him the atom bomb should be employed tactically in Korea.

But in such an offensive as the present there certainly should be a tactical use for any engine or gun that can hurl atomic shells into areas where the Red enemy is massed.

There is a great and natural reluctance to the further use of atomic power in warfare. Some regard it as immoral. But to others it would seem equally immoral to go on risking American lives in a war that has cost us more than 60,000 casualties—if there is a weapon available powerful enough to halt further slaughter altogether.

If the crisis in Korea mounts, this question of employing the deadly energy of the atom is going to become more and more important.

North Koreans Slaughtered By Allied Seoul Defenders

By JOHN RANDOLPH

WESTERN FRONT, Korea — (AP) — Four North Korean infantry battalions attacked Seoul's outer defenses at 6 a. m. Saturday and were beaten back with hundreds of casualties.

One single American company counted 135 bodies in front of its barbed wire. Another company counted 35 dead and estimated more than 200 more were out of reach.

Eighty prisoners were taken.

The attack was north of the Seoul city limits against Allied hill positions. The fighting was on both sides of a jagged ridge that runs south into Seoul almost to the Korean capitol building.

The dazed prisoners said their commanders had told them the Allies had fled Seoul and all they had to do was brush aside a light screening force and enter the deserted city. They learned the falsity of this almost immediately.

They charged in bright sunlight into Allied mine fields and barbed wire.

Americans Well-Fortified

American infantry opened fire from some of the most thoroughly laidout defense positions in the Korean war. They cut down the North Koreans with every weapon available—rifles, machine guns mortars and recoilless cannon.

Artillery and air strikes quickly added to the slaughter. Despite this hurricane of fire, the Reds pulled themselves together and charged fanatically. They hit the wire and melted away there under the American machine guns.

On the westen flank, more than a dozen North Koreans, in black uniforms for concealment, had tried before dawn to sneak through the wire and scout the Allied positions. They were wiped out.

One American company commander, disappointed at taking no prisoners, sent his Korean interpreter down the valley to offer aid to any wounded.

59 Prisoners Taken

The Korean's shouted offer was answered by a waving white cloth. A North Korean crawled out of the undergrowth with hands over his head. Within a minute ten more had come in, and the final bag from this effort was 59, most of them wounded.

All the prisoners appeared well fed and were well-uniformed and armed with Russian-made and captured American equipment.

Meanwhile, the Americans sent an armored patrol up the road north to Uijongbu (11 miles north of Seoul's outskirts.) It returned without having drawn fire. Chinese had occupied Uijongbu, but apparently had pulled back into the hills during the night.

Russians More Active Across Bering Strait

ANCHORAGE, Alaska — (AP) — Russian soldiers are reported more active on the visible corner of Big Diomede island than at any time in several years.

The latest report from Little Diomede Island Eskimos came to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Morgan of Anchorage, who formerly taught on the American island. A similar earlier report was brought here by James Iyapana, a resident of the island.

Russian - owned Big Diomede is less than three miles from its Alaskan little brother in the middle of Bering strait.

The Morgans' Eskimo friends advised them last week that Soviet troops, starting in April, had been seen almost daily at an observation pos tatop a high hill on Big Diomede's northeast corner. There was no indication of how many.

Until this spring, there had been no sighting of Russians on Big Diomede's hilltop for many months, the weekly publication Forty-Ninth Star reported.

Iyanana reported here late in March that a patrol of nine Russians was encountered on Big Diomede.

The main settlement of Big Diomede can not be seen from Little Diomede.

The Forty-Ninth Star quoted one unidentified source as pointing out that observers atop Big Diomede could make a check on all American shipping passing to or from the Arctic ocean through Bering strait. It said they also might get a glimpse, on clear days, of work on defense installations along the Bering coast.

The source suggested the Russians might also be tightening their guard against any crossing of the International Dateline by Alaskans.

Political Tension Defeats Resident

BENTON, Tenn. — (AP) — A haggard, lifelong resident says he is planning to sell his business and leave Benton as soon as possible.

"I'm getting tired of dodging every time a car passes," he told a reporter. "When I leave Polk county, I'm going to wash my hair, my clothes, my car and my shoes. And I never want to see this place again."

He was another victim of jitters resulting form a political war which has destroyed government as an operating agency in Polk. And in this mountainous southeast Tennessee section, politics has come to involve not only government but personal and immediate safety.

Four deaths in less than three years have been attributed to conflict between the Democrats and the bi-partisan Good Government league. Tension has reached a new high since the ambush slaying of Democrat leader W. A. Lewis May 11.

It takes about six tons of coal to make one new automobile.

Forefinger Artist Coming

A pre-eminent star of the Clyde Beatty circus—and that's saying something, isn't it?

Well that's what Borge Barton, the world's equilibristic wonder, certainly is, and you'll agree when the huge Clyde Beatty Circus comes to Roseburg, on Saturday, June 2 for afternoon and night performances east of the city, for he is the man who stands on his forefinger and performs incredible, breath-taking feats atop a thirty-foot pole.

Known around the world as "The Great Barton," the upside-down gravity defying artist he is without question, one of the world's most recklessly daring performers.

His ability to balance his entire weight on one finger, together with other gravity-defying achievements on his lofty pedestal astounds the audience to the point where they actually shout out to him, "Don't! Oh, please, don't try THAT."

For his astounding feats, The Great Barton developed a formidable physical stamina as a boy in his native Sweden, where rigorous gymnastic training is a part of their everyday life. Today, he is a star—an outstanding star—for the reason he is in a class by himself. A near sensation is definitely the best way to describe the Swedish wonder of the world.

He provides one of the outstanding gasp-provoking spectacles with the big show this year, which lists several very noted features, all, headed as they are, by Clyde Beatty, the most daring wild animal trainer on earth, in the most dangerous awe-inspiring display ever performed by man, and featuring the tiger-killing lion, Prince.

In all, there are 267 men and women arenic stars and performers listed under the Clyde Beatty banners this season and the majority of them are new to circus fans.

Performances will be given at 3:00 and 8:00 p.m. with the main gates opening at 2:00 and 7 p.m.

Jefferson Voters OK Excess Of Limitation

MADRAS — (AP) — Jefferson county voters Friday approved a county budget in excess of the six percent limitation by $78,099.13. The vote was 212 yes and 191 no.

A proposed levy for a new $21,000 jail was turned down by a vote of 213 to 193.

Only 406 of the county's 2,236 registered voters cast ballots.

ITCH (Scabies) is highly contagious and will continue for life if not stopped. Its sole cause is the itch mite which is immune to ordinary treatment. EXSORA kills the itch-mite almost instantly. Only three days' EXSORA treatment is required. Mail orders given prompt attention. Postpaid $1.50

PEACH FARM
Truthfully folks, we are at a loss for words to describe this 44 acre farm. If we were asked to describe the best peach orchard in this part of the country, on the best soil in the best district, within 6 miles of Roseburg, we would say ARCHIE WILSON'S in the Winston district. We would simply say turn left at the green steel bridge, drive past the Pepsi-Cola plant and look for the VALLEY REAL ESTATE sign on the front lawn. Simply stated here are the details:

44 Acres, all cultivated
8 Acres of Peaches
