

KDND

DIAL-LOG

TONIGHT: The Roseburg high school commencement address, to be delivered by Dr. Alburey Castell, will be heard on KRNR at 10:15. Paul Elliot, superintendent of city schools, will introduce Dr. Castell for his main address at 11:45. The address will be heard on KRNR at 8:00 this evening. We will delay our broadcast until the later time. Dr. Castell is head of the philosophy department at the University of Oregon.

REPORTER'S ROUNDUP: Senator Paul Douglas (Dem.) from Illinois is to be the interview guest of Reporter's Roundup at 8:30. Senator Douglas is currently heading the senate subcommittee investigating morals and ethics in government.

BORGE'S EARLY LIFE: Victor says: "I took up the piano when I was four years old and people who heard me played in fact, my music moved them. In fact, the apartment next door was vacant all the time."

Victor had trouble adjusting to American customs. For instance, in Europe when you speak to an English lord, you say your lordship. When you speak to his wife you say your ladyship. One time when Victor was at a party he met an admiral. "Naturally, my first words to him were 'How do you do, your flagship.' That got me into trouble," Borge continues, "but they almost sent me back to Denmark when the admiral's wife spoke to me and I answered, 'Yes, your battleship.'"

OTHER RAMBLEKES: Bill Henry (6:55 p. m. weekdays) has been broadcasting since 1923, when the crystal set was the thing. He started by substituting for a newspaper friend during his vacation and has been facing microphones ever since.

Tomorrow at 1:00 p. m., Jack Kirkwood and crew help radio station management out by demonstrating how a radio network should properly be operated.

Graduation Exercises Held At Junior Academy Friday

Exercises were held in the auditorium of the Roseburg Junior Academy for the eighth and tenth grade graduating classes on Friday evening, May 24. Fifteen students participated in the eighth grade rites, and diplomas were given seven graduates from the tenth grade.

The rostrum of the academy was decorated with baskets of iris, in contrasting hues of orange and pale yellow. Girls graduating wore pastel formal. Their corsages were of yellow carnations, the class flower, and the boys were matching boutonnières.

Burnell Paulson, ninth grade student, and Alice Joy Matthews, seventh grade student, ushered the undergraduates, teachers and graduates to their seats. Diplomas were carried by Jeanette Williams and Bernard Paulson. The diplomas were distributed later by Principal Willis Bruce, who will be with Columbia academy at Meadow Glade, Wash., next year. Also saying farewell to the Roseburg academy was Miss Miriam Pease, who taught the seventh and eighth grade this year. The eighth grade graduation had special meaning to Miss Pease. She taught the same group of scholars when they began as first graders. She was employed as a teacher in Hawaii four years.

The evening's program was opened with Mrs. Wilson at the piano, playing the professional, followed by the invocation by Elder Coy. The welcome address was presented by Jo Ann Marx, followed by the salutatory speech by Pauline Smith. A solo, "Jesus Take My Hand," was sung by Danny Matthews. Elinor Kruse and Donna Thompson gave the history of the graduating classes, and prophecy was given by Opal Howard and Tommy Matthews. The girls' chorus sang the class song, and the class was given by Pluma Wallen and Florence McFarland, after which the diplomas were presented by Willis H. Bruce. Sonja Rhodes gave the valedictory oration, and Bernadine Paulson was soloist. The class sang the hymn, "May the Good Lord Bless and Keep Thee." The benediction was rendered by Lewis Webb. The recessional was played by the pianist, Mrs. Wilson. Class motto chosen was "Above the Clouds and on to Success."

The following students graduated from grade eight: Larry Alavezos, Leonard Coy, Richard Goodenough, Dorothy Graves, Opal Howard, Elinor Kruse, Tommy Matthews, Mildred Olson, Bernadine Paulson.

Hopalong Cassidy To Lead Parade At Rose Festival

Hopalong Cassidy, idol of America's cowboy and Indian set, will be "honorary grand marshal" of Portland's centennial year Rose Festival grand floral parade on Friday, June 8, 1951.

"Hoppy" who is in real life William Boyd and one of Hollywood's most amazing stars of the moment, is a gent who takes his role mighty seriously. In Cassidy's own words:

"Every kid wants to grow up to be like Hoppy and every man in the United States has, sometime or other, wanted to be like Hopalong. . . riding the range on a good horse, cleaning up on the bad men, sitting around a campfire and so on. All I can do is thank all the kids—young and old alike—for giving me the opportunity of living the life of a great guy like Hoppy. It's a dream come true. I realize my great responsibility to the many children and their parents who have taken Hoppy into their homes as a friend on thousands upon thousands of television screens and in comic strips. I will never willingly or knowingly do anything that will disappoint the parents or disillusion their children."

The Rose Festival grand floral parade will form in Portland's Multnomah civic stadium at 8 p. m. on Friday, June 8. The procession, led by Hopalong Cassidy on his famous horse Topper, will move out of the stadium at 10 a. m. enroute through Portland's downtown streets. . . five miles in all. The internationally famous Rose parade will be made up of fifty all-florally decorated floats and an equal number of colorful bands and marching units. The Proctor high school band from Duluth, Minnesota, will be "honored guest band" moving near Hoppy at the head of the parade.

Rose Festival officials report that the best place to see Hopalong Cassidy is during the pre-parade activities at Multnomah Civic stadium. Admission is by Rose Festival ticket book or single event admission price is $1.50 for
