Probe Requested Of 'China Lobby'

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator McMahon (D-Conn) said today he will ask appointment of a MacArthur inquiry subcommittee to investigate the so-called "China lobby."

McMahon told reporters he thinks there should be a "thoroughgoing" inquiry into activities of the group, which he described as supporting the Nationalist government of Chiang Kai shek.

The question of whether any U.S. air funds have been used to influence the American people toward support of Chiang would form a central theme of the proposed inquiry, the Connecticut senator said.

At the same time, William Goodwin, described by McMahon previously as a $40,000 a year lobbyist for the Nationalists, demanded an opportunity to be heard by the senate armed services and foreign relations committees.

Senator Sparkman (D-Ala) said he is going along with McMahon and Senator Morse (R-Ore) in efforts to find out whether the so-called China lobby has generated recent charges that the administration's policy toward Red China is "soft."

Removal Of Meat Controls Pressed

CHICAGO — (AP) — A group of the nation's retail meat dealers — noting dwindling supplies of beef — has urged Congress to remove price controls on meat.

The appeal by the dealers was made as sale of beef cattle at the country's 12 major livestock markets this week slumped to a three-year low. A spokesman said the dealers feel the controls will mean a continued scarcity of meat and illegal markets.

The week's dull cattle trading by the big packers resulted in a virtual shutdown of slaughtering operations in many plants. Many farmers and feeders refused to send cattle to market under government price regulations. Packing industry spokesmen said the butcher shops will feel the full effects of the beef scarcity next week.

The meat dealers' appeal to Congress was disclosed by George Nepl, executive secretary of the National Association of Retail Meat and Food Dealers. Nepl said the association represents about 70,000 dealers across the nation.

Communities Request Aid In Starting Parks

In company with the late County Commissioner R. G. Baker, and County Sanitarian Laverne Miller, he had examined a proposed park site to serve the Cow Creek area. The land is located on Cow creek and is reached by the Barton road. It would consist of 15 acres of land, heavily wooded, and well watered. A tract of 12 acres of state-owned land adjoins the site. The tract is available, he said, for $1250.

The board ordered further investigation. A lengthy discussion was held concerning the complicated Winchester Bay Tidelands park and boat basin in the mouth of the Umpqua river. This recreational spot has grown by leaps and bounds, due to its unique summer fishery.

Management Is Problem — Management is a problem because of joint usage for commercial and sports purposes, divided authority between the county, coast guard and port commission and adjacent private and public interests. The Parks board is preparing to install sanitary facilities, but demands that the expense of maintenance be assumed by the community.

A delegation consisting of George Lemon, Vern Peek and George Marks, representing charter boat and skiff concessionaires, reported on a recent public meeting at Winchester Bay where it was urged that individual stalls be provided for the moorage of commercial and charter fishing boats, at an annual fee of $25; that small boat concessions be leased, water and lights extended to the county dock marine service furnished from 5 a.m. to 9 p.m., and that a wharf be employed to manage the dock and collect fees.

Local Responsibility — The Parks board pointed out that it is created primarily to furnish the physical properties required for recreational purposes and that the management of parks or recreational areas should be the responsibility of the local communities.

It was urged that the interested persons at Winchester Bay form an association which could contract with the county court for management under stipulated policies.

As no complete management plan can be worked out in time for this year's season, the board granted small boat concessions to George Marks and "Mark" Mills, conditioned upon an agreement from the concessionaires to supervise sanitary installations during the coming season.

Improvements Reported — The supervisor's monthly report detailed extensive studies at Winchester Bay, improvements to Singleton and Mack Brown parks, and investigations at Winston and Gendrale. Contracts have been let for construction of signs, toilets, tables, benches and other improvements on county-owned parks, he said.

The financial report showed the $25,000 budget for the year to have been spent or earmarked, leaving no funds in the board's treasury until the beginning of the fiscal year July 1. The new county budget includes a proposed appropriation of $25,000 for the coming year. All members of the Parks board — John Amacher, chairman, H. J. Haas, Canyonville, James Stoop, Drain, secretary, and Frank Taylor Reedsport — were present for the meeting.

Soviet Air Action Upped Over Berlin

BERLIN — (AP) — The Soviet air force has stepped up jet plane activity over Berlin to the point where Allied fliers are growing concerned with their own safety in the air, it was learned today.

The Red force is now posting with the four-power air safety center daily flights of jets from the Schoenfeld field, on the outskirts of the city, without bothering to give details.

The Americans, British and French at the center have asked the Russians a number of times, to give more details for the sake of safety without results.

The Soviet officers merely list "jet flights" from Schoenfeld "all day long" without giving the altitude, the time, nor the number of planes.

Twice in the past week, jet bombers flew so low over the city in defiance of the air safety rules that the Soviet markings were clearly visible to the man on the street.

Chinese Retreat From Stronghold

TOKYO — (AP) — Battered Chinese Reds today began retreating from their main Korean stronghold — the Chorwon-Kumhwa-Pyonggang "iron triangle," field reports said.

A pooled dispatch from the western front said the Reds were falling back toward Kumsong, 17 miles due east of Pyonggang and about 28 miles north of the 38th parallel. Censorship obscured exact Allied position. But the report said Eighth U. S. army forces captured two ridges against decreasing Red opposition. One Allied gain of more than a mile was reported.

Pyonggang is the northern tip of the triangle. The building area where the Reds grouped forces for abortive offenses against the United Nations.

Chorwon and Kumhwa are the triangle's southern anchors. Both were directly threatened by the Allies.

Worm Army Continues Advance But End Seen

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. — (AP) — The worm army continues to advance — but it is running out of time and space.

The caterpillar horde that has infested upper Michigan and parts of Ontario now has eaten its way to the Cedarville-Hessel, Mich., area.

That's about 40 miles south of the Soo and right on the shores of Lake Huron. Trees in the area look like they had never leafed out at all.

"Man, that was a short summer," they seem to say.

The plague is due to end shortly, though.

"For one thing, the worms haven't yet devised a way to get across the Straits of Mackinac to lower Michigan under their own power. For another, they have only about five days left before they get sleepy and want to curl up in a good cocoon."

More than 5,000 Iranians massed at the airport to cheer the trio as they boarded a plane for Ahwaz, capital of Khuzistan province. They applauded Hussein
