Youths Visit County Jail And Are Held Prisoners

FAIRMONT, W. Va. — (AP) — Two 19-year-old youths went to the Marion county jail to visit friends. They stayed on as prisoners. Chief Deputy Sheriff Lora Yeager got a good look at the cigarettes and tobacco they brought with them. Their description jibed with brands reported stolen from a nearby tavern. Yeager took them into his private office for a talk. He said they admitted breaking in the tavern and named a third person, 20-year-old Clyde Miller, as a participant. Now all three — Harold Martin, Richard Neese and Miller — are behind bars awaiting grand jury action.

Twice-Ringing Postman Brings Trouble, Not Mail

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — The postman rang twice but Mrs. Vinita Nichols got more than the mail when she stepped onto her front porch. Heading toward her were a two-ton truck and an automobile. The truck, loaded with carpets, crashed into her living room. The automobile selected a bedroom and came to rest there. Mrs. Nichols and the truck driver, Chester Taylor, escaped with bruises. The driver of the auto, Mrs. Catherine Griffin, wasn't even scratched. P. S.: The postman hotfooted it up the block. Just remembered a special delivery he had to make.

The submarine disappeared April 16, while on a training cruise, with the loss of 75 men.

One suggested method of raising the sub, if she is found undamaged, would be to blow her full of compressed air to restore the buoyancy needed to surface the craft.

Attractive Woman Gets Easy $10 From Police

MALDEN, Mass. — (AP) — The police got to the catchbasin before the street department men — so Jack Felton is out $10. Felton dropped a $10 roll of quarters down the catchbasin.

An attractive woman came along and asked: "Lost something?" "Yes," Felton replied and told her of his loss.

He then headed for the street department to get men to retrieve the money.

At the same time, the police said, the woman went to them and reported the loss as hers. Police obligingly scooped the roll of quarters out for her. She disappeared before Felton's return.
