Woman Who Slew Trespasser Held

SAN LOUIS OBISPO, Calif. — (AP) — Wealthy Mrs. Margaret G. Ryan must answer a manslaughter indictment for the fatal shooting of a 22-year-old trespasser.

Mrs. Ryan, widow of New York stock broker Basil A. (Pat) Ryan, burst into tears when a 17-man county grand jury delivered the indictment here.

She had testified the June 9 killing of Leonard D. Ray, a navy veteran and Sunday school teacher, was in self defense. She said Ray jabbed a .22 rifle against her chest when she asked him to leave her ranch. He was crossing it enroute to fish.

Last week, a coroner's jury called the shooting "unjustifiable homicide." The grand jury said she fired "unlawfully and feloniously."

Mrs. Ryan promptly posted $10,000 bond and was released.

A $227,000 damage suit was filed against Mrs. Ryan by the slain youth's father, Leonard D. Ray Sr., for the 16-year-old widow, Mary, and eight-month-old daughter, Shirley.

wrote a new definition of defense areas to which rent controls could be extended.

As now proposed, the senate bill would deny the President most of the new controls powers he requested, including the licensing of business as price enforcement measure, and the right to seize private property through condemnation proceedings for use in the defense effort.

On the other side of the capitol the house banking committee knocked out two additional curbs against inflation sought by the administration. It turned down 14 to 6 an amendment to extend credit regulations to old housing, and defeated 12 to 8 a provision which would have allowed the government to boost margin requirements for speculators trading on commodity exchanges.

Deadlock Holds In Ship Strike

NEW YORK — (AP) — The CIO National Maritime union and operators of east and gulf ships tried anew today to settle a work stoppage that has tied up shipping for six days.

A joint meeting of seamen and ship owners broke up in a deadlock last night with management offering a 44-hour work week at sea and the union demanding 40 hours, comparable to the current 40-hour work week in port.

At San Francisco, Federal Conciliator Omar Hoskins, still wearily seeking a settlement of the six-day-old strike by CIO radio operators, scheduled another meeting with shipowners.

Joint negotiations collapsed completely earlier when the radio men walked out of the meeting.

Police Chief Runs Afoul Of Rodeo Law; Fined $1.00

Police Chief Lloyd J. Larsen ran afoul of the law Wednesday noon in front of the Hotel Umpqua when he was apprehended by an alert crew of Paul Bunyans who charged him with wearing too small a hat, which was alleged to be borrowed, and attempted intimidation of authorities.

Later, when lodged in the penal stockade to await arraignment, Chief Larsen faced a more serious charge — attempted jail break.

Sensing the importance of the latter incident, Kangaroo court Judge W. A. MacArthur dealt the lawbreaker stern justice, assessing him $1 on three-and-one-half counts.

In Chief Larsen's defense, he insisted that he had purchased the hat, that it fit, and that he had only leaned his elbow on the stockade railing when it fell down, but Judge MacArthur was not swayed.

The court charged that Larsen was guilty of attempted intimidation because he threatened a warrant against the court for failure to get a construction permit for the stockade and lack of a truck license.
