

Boyle Clears Up Confusion In Use Of Military Terms

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — (AP) — Are you finding the war news a bit hard to understand? Maybe it's the military gobbledegook — standard on both sides — that has you confused. Generals as well as doctors sometimes have a hard time explaining their operations in the language of the common man.

Perhaps a verbal baedeker putting their key phrases into ordinary English might help you. Well, one has been drawn up — all in fun — by an air force officer in Korea. It was relayed to me by Gordon Gammack, Des Moines Tribune columnist.

"With war once again dominating newspapers, radio, politics, and the cigarette ads," the anonymous air force officer said in preface, "it is timely to publish a short guide to military phraseology so the American people may better understand the true conditions of the subject."

He then listed, as the key phrases "likely to be employed in this war and the ones to follow," these clichés... and their translations: "...planned withdrawal to strengthen positions..." (we're running.)

"...fleeing in confusion..." (they're running.)

"...in this hour of crisis, we must remove the bungling, inept..." (election year, Republican.)

"...in this hour of crisis, it would be folly to change horses..." (election year, Democrat.)

"...forced by inclement weather to find a secondary target..." (they chased us off and we bombed the ocean again.)

"...courageous charge in the face of bitter enemy resistance..." (we're advancing.)

"...suicide attack by crazed oriental fanatics..." (they're advancing.)

"...spokesman described the results as 'satisfactory' and said..." (we missed again.)

"...captured two major rail

Army Civil Functions Fund Cut O.K.'d By House

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The $541,427,400 army civil functions bill was passed by the House and sent to the Senate Wednesday after the lower chamber had rejected all efforts to increase the total appropriation.

The bill as passed was 20 percent below the $640,637,843 the amount requested by President Truman.

Although the President had recommended $35,000,000 to start four power projects, including a Dalles and Ice Harbor dam in the Pacific Northwest, the House cut out all funds for new construction.

Portland Woman Elected President Of State P.E.O.

COOS BAY — (AP) — Mrs. F. W. Nestelle, Portland, was elected president of the State P.E.O. at the annual convention here.

Others elected: Mrs. Joseph McCready, Forest Grove, first vice-president; Mrs. A. E. Gilmore, Portland, second vice-president; Mrs. W. L. Van Loan, Corvallis, organizer; Mrs. Robert Eifstrom, Salem, treasurer; Mrs. James Beck, Hood River, recording secretary; Mrs. Dolph Phipps, Medford, corresponding secretary.

Next year's convention will be held in Portland. The date has not yet been set.

Further Beef Price Rollbacks Given First Nod

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The senate banking committee has voted for a ban on further price rollbacks — including beef — below average price levels between Jan. 24 and Feb. 24, 1951.

The committee, completing a revision of the economic controls bill, also amended the measure to provide more liberal installment credit terms for the purchase of automobiles only. It then scheduled a vote Thursday on whether to approve the bill in its present form.

Senator Maybank (D-SC), the committee chairman, said he thought the committee would approve the drastically revised measure and "enact a real price freeze."

The price control amendment would retain the existing beef price rollback but — unless Price Director DiSalle acts between now and the time the measure becomes law — it would forestall two scheduled companion rollbacks in August and October.

The committee approved this amendment by a 7-6 vote.

"After the enactment of this paragraph, no ceiling price shall become effective which is below the lower of (A) the price prevailing just before the date of issuance of the regulation or order establishing such ceiling price, or (B) the price prevailing during the period January 25, 1951 to February 24, 1951, inclusive."

Guards Patrol Residence Of Wealthy Movie Star

GLENBROOK, Nev. — (AP) — Police guards are patrolling the rented home of screen actress Rita Hayworth at this fashionable mountain resort.

District Attorney Jack Streeter stationed the seven-man guard explaining he feared for the safety of the actress and her 17-month-old daughter, Yasmin.

Streeter said he heard hoodlums in Miami, Fla., express too much interest in Rita and Yasmin, her daughter by Aly Khan. He just returned from Florida.

Streeter quoted one unidentified person, unaware he was speaking to a law officer, as saying:

"Little Yasmin would be worth a lot of money."

The district attorney said Miss Hayworth's jewelry, valued at $250,000, has been taken to a vault in Reno.

Miss Hayworth is establishing legal residence to divorce Aly, fabulously rich Indian prince.

Streeter said Miss Hayworth hired the guards, all Reno policemen, after he and Sheriff Jim Feil advised it.
