LONE VOYAGER—Whiskered and sunburned, Clyde W. Deal Jr., of Red Bank, N. J., waves hello as he pulls into New York's Pier 8 after completing a 54-day solo voyage across the Atlantic from the Canary Islands in his 33-foot sloop Ran. He is accompanied by an Italian dog, Tenerife, which he picked up from an Italian fishing vessel at sea.

Prospective Candidates Coy On Running For President

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Look at the record and you'd think nobody — well, almost nobody — wants to be president for the four years beginning in January, 1953. Although the Democratic and Republican nominating conventions are only a little more than a year away, coyness among prospective candidates has reached something of record breaking proportions.

One man, President Truman, says he knows what he's going to do. But he hasn't said what that is. Outside of Mrs. Truman — and maybe Margaret — nobody seems to know whether the President is going to run again or not.

If you ask William M. Boyle Jr., the democratic national chairman, he puts on his most inscrutable smile. Boyle has been practicing it for years and it never worked better.

Boyle doesn't have to worry. His plan of campaign is the same whether Mr. Truman chooses or does not choose to run. He is simply going out to gather up for Mr. Truman all of the convention delegates he can corral.

If the Presidents runs, fine and dandy. If he does not, Mr. Truman asks the delegates to support the man of his choice. Simple as that.

Even Jonathan Daniels, Raleigh, N. C., editor and Truman biographer, said after a White House visit yesterday he thinks — but doesn't know — that Mr. Truman is going to run again. He didn't get that from the President, Daniels hastened to say, but added:

"The more his foreign policy — which he considers vital to resist Russian aggression and preserve democracy — is attacked, the more he will fight back."

This kind of report makes it difficult for other democrats to do much about running for president. They can't even run for vice president as long as Alben Barkley gives no indication of stepping out.

Congress Cites 3 For Contempt

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has cited George S. May, head of the Tam O'Shanter county club of Chicago, and two alleged members of the revived Capone gang on charges of contempt of Congress.

In addition to May, the others cited are Rocco Fischetti and Murray L. (The Camel) Humphreys, both of Chicago.

The Senate acted without debate and by unanimous vote on the motion of Senator O'Connor (D-Md.), chairman of the senate crime investigating committee.

The citations now go to the Justice department, for possible prosecution. Contempt of Congress is punishable by up to a year in jail and a $1,000 fine.

Fischetti and Humphreys had refused to answer questions at committee inquiries at which O'Connor and his staff sought to explore the sources of their income and possible underworld connections.

May had testified willingly concerning his business activities as president of the May Engineering company, but refused to testify about alleged slot machine operations at the Tam O'Shanter a gathering place for sports and other notables and scene of many top flight golf tournaments.
