

Lady Godivas Needed

Americans Given Pointer On Possible Way To Get Reduction In Tax Burden

NEW YORK — (AP) — Will a new group of Lady Godivas arise to rescue the American people from high taxes? This suggestion for cutting the rising price of government was made recently by Frank Tripp, sage of the Elmira (N.Y.) Star-Gazette.

He recalled the legendary ride of the original Lady Godiva nearly 900 years ago. As I get it, this beautiful Saxon dame told her husband, the Lord of Coventry: "My lord, why have you lowered such a heavy tax boom on our pleasant peasants?"

"Well I don't like your manner at all," said the lady. "When are you going to give these poor people a break?"

"I'll cut their taxes the day you ride bareback through the town," scoffed old man Coventry. "Haw, haw, haw!"

Well, he knew that Lady Godiva was one of the poorest riders in the whole countryside. She fell regularly off her mount at least twice during every foxhunt. And all her husband meant by saying what he did was that she wouldn't dare try to ride a horse without a saddle.

But like any wife in any age, Lady Godiva took what her husband said literally. She thought he meant she wouldn't dare ride with her own back bare through the streets. No lady could resist a challenge like that.

So she put out an order for the Peons to stay indoors. Then she saddled up a white horse, took off her robes and rode through Coventry adorned with nothing but her long blonde hair. One tailor, "Peeping Tom," looked out to see what all the hoofbeats were about. He was struck blind, probably by bright sunshine.

On the way home Lady Godiva met her astounded husband, who demanded: "Egad, and what the hell are you doing?"

"Cutting taxes," she said innocently. "And if you don't lower the rate, I'm going for another ride tomorrow. I've never had so much fun."

She Won Tax Reduction
She went to bed with a bad case of sunburn, and the next day the peasants got the biggest tax rebate in history. Ever since then peasants figure it will happen again. And what about the heroine? Whenever she asked for a new dress, old man Coventry would say: "Sorry, Milady, but our coffers are as bare as—as bare as you know what."

Today the House of Representatives has passed a new $7,200,000,000 tax bill, the biggest ever. Frank Tripp's idea is that 49 modern Godivas might help save the day—one to ride through Washington, D. C., and each of the 48 state capitals.

Lets Of Gals, Few White Nags
It would probably be easy enough to find the gal volunteers, but where would you find the 49 snow-white horses? And people nowadays expect more. They wouldn't even turn out for the parade unless Lady Godiva played a guitar, or carried a rifle and shot down eggs thrown into the air and flying streamers saying, "Bring down the high cost of living."

Nope, Congressmen don't scare as easy as the old Lord of Coventry. They know what the average husband would say if his wife trotted bare down the stairs bound for a horseback ride to lower taxes.

"Well, for heaven's sake," he'd say, "go back upstairs and put on your hat. I don't want you to go out looking like a bum."

Then he'd go back to reading his newspaper.
