

ON THE SANDS OF TIME—Recently discovered in the rocky hill country along the Guadalupe River near Kerrville, Tex., were huge dinosaur tracks like that pictured above, dwarfing a man's hand. It was made, some millions of years ago, by a monster called Tyrannosaurus Rex, fiercest and most terrible of the prehistoric animals. From 40 to 50 feet long and 18 feet high, it was a carnivorous killer with a melon-shaped head that was mostly mouth and sharp teeth. As seen in sketch, below, it walked erect, supported by its huge alligator-like tail and used its comparatively small and weak forelegs for grasping its prey.

HUMAN MISTAKE—Jay Belser, 18 (above) of Rockville, Maryland, holds a check for half a million dollars he received from the Treasury Department as an income tax refund. He was due only $21.83. The best explanation the Treasury could give was that a "human mistake" caused the blunder. Above, young Belser takes a last look at his fortune before returning it to the Government.

Myrtle Creek Plant Adding Veneer Chipper

Fir Manufacturing company of Myrtle Creek is installing a veneer chipper at the plywood plant there, according to the Myrtle Creek Mail. Construction of the conveyors and loading spur is about 75 percent complete.

Green veneer, which was previously used as fuel or wasted, will be used as raw material in the operation.

After being processed, the chips will be sold to the pulp and paper industry for conversion into other wood products. This is another step towards total wood utilization, a spokesman said.

Construction of the unit is being done by Fraser's Boiler Service, Inc., of Seattle. The plant is expected to be in operation early in September.
