Woman Reporter Becomes First Rate Correspondent During Korean Hostilities

By RELMAN MORIN (For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK—(AP)—My wife, who is a career woman and admits to strong feelings on the subject, has a favorite cliché, to wit: "A woman, in any kind of business, has to work twice as hard as a man to get half as far."

I used to be stuck for an answer to that, but the war in Korea provided one. "How about Marguerite Higgins," I ask, by way of a crusher.

Maggie Higgins was the only woman reporter over there on a daily stint. Some others came and went on quickies. But Maggie made a job of it.

She came back with a Pulitzer prize, an excellent book and a clear track for the lecture circuits. A Hollywood studio wanted her life story as the basis for a picture, but the agents made the mistake of showing her the story-outline they had in mind, and she said six to that. There were many other emoluments that came to her.

All of them were richly deserved.

Works As Hard

Whether Maggie worked twice as hard as the men on the same beat would be hard to determine. Let's just say that she worked as hard as most, and harder than others. In any case, the point is that when the rewards were being passed out Maggie was handsomely remembered. And so she should have been.

She underwent all the usual hardships of war correspondents—Mrs. Lillian Kenworthy, Mr. and Mrs. James Lorty, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Worthington, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Finn, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Matthews, Gary, Lee and Lynette Conn, Anita and Rodney Becker, Sandra and Kay Kenworthy, Clark Matthews, Virginia Matthews, Jimmy and Dorothy Finn and guest, Maynard Talley. Darlene Kruse and guest Lloyd Johnson; Marshall, Douglas and Mike Matthews and Jeanie Conn.

It was much more dangerous than sticking with American units, and by the nature of the things, not much of a story. The newspaper readers over here naturally were more interested in closeups of what Americans were doing than they were in any of the Allied units. I doubt that she got much copy out of it. But it was typical of her thoroughness to assign herself to the ROKS.

Her bravery, in fact, bordered on plain recklessness.

One day, a correspondent's jeep was moving up near the front and it came to a fork in the road. An M. P. was standing there. And they asked directions of him.

He pointed down one road and said that was the quickest route to the unit they were hunting. But he added, "I wouldn't advise you to go that way. The Gooks have it under observation and they shot

Labor Supply, Demand Nearly Equal In County

Employment in Douglas county has settled down to the level where the supply and demand are nearly equal in most classifications. Definite shortages exist in certain skilled jobs and in the clerical field. This condition is expected to continue for the next 90 days. A few more vacancies are anticipated when school opens in early September.

Information concerning the labor situation is furnished by George T. Foster, manager of the Roseburg office of the state employment service.

Available job openings at the end of July were approximately twenty-seven percent less than for the same period last year and numbered nearly the same as at the end of June. Forty percent of these openings are in the trade and service field, twenty-eight percent in the lumber industry and the balance spread over other industries.

Claims for unemployment insurance benefits rose slightly as the new benefit year began on July 1. The annual Fourth of July vacation period, coupled with low humidity conditions was also responsible for the increase in claims filed.

Russian Appeal Branded Farce

STOCKHOLM, Sweden — (AP) — Liberals of more than 20 nations branded the Moscow-sponsored "Stockholm appeal" for peace as a "deliberate attempt to profit from man's hatred of war."

The World Liberal union, meeting at Uppsala, adopted its own "Uppsala appeal" calling on men and women all over the world to fight against any form of totalitarianism.

The resolution said the Red-inspired world peace movement aims at weakening the resistance of the free world to Communist fight against freedom and peace.

Other points in the resolution were that: "No government that holds its people by force can be said to have secured internal peace. No government which is at war with its own people can be said to be at peace with the rest of the world."

"No lasting and real peace is possible so long as there are undemocratic schemes to usurp the freedom of other nations and keep millions of men reduced to slav-
