Ten Oregonians
Die In Mishaps
Over Weekend

By The Associated Press
Accidents in Oregon last weekend claimed the lives of eight persons.
Five were burned to death. Three of them—including two children—died in a gasoline fire following an automobile-truck collision at Hillsboro. Two others burned in their bed in an early morning fire at Myrtle Creek.

Traffic accidents at Medford and Cascadia claimed two lives.

One man drowned on a midnight swimming party.

Two other Oregonians were killed in out-of-state mishaps.

Kaute Hart, 38, Keith Hart, 9, his son, and Steven Lindstrom, 7, a nephew, all of Portland, were trapped in an overturned truck and burned to death at Hillsboro Saturday. The mother of one of the children, who had been following the truck in another car, suffered burns when she tried to rescue the children and her husband. Another son, Kenneth Hart, 12, also riding in the truck, was pulled from the burning vehicle by a bystander. He suffered extensive burns. Driver of the car that collided with the truck suffered only minor injuries.

Two persons, tentatively identified as Ellsworth Martin, about 50, and his wife of two weeks, the former Iris Evans, about 38, were burned to death in a fire that levelled their suburban home one mile south of Myrtle Creek Sunday.

Glen Roy Hord, 43, drowned early Sunday in the Columbia river near Portland. Sheriff's deputies said he was swimming with the wife of a houseboat tenant when he sank. The woman, Mrs. John Godfrey, was rescued by her husband and the moorage operator.

Maynard Junior Henderson, 22, Weed, Calif., was killed Sunday when he was struck by a car while walking along U. S. highway 99 near Medford. The driver of the car was not held.

Rube Simon, 48, Cascadia, died in a Sweet Home hospital Sunday of injuries suffered in an early morning traffic accident 35 miles southeast of Salem. His car stalled and was struck by another. Six persons were injured in the crash.

At El Paso, Tex., a Salem, Ore., youth stationed at Walker air force base was one of two soldiers killed when their motorcycle collided head-on with an automobile. He was Cpl. Justin V. Lowe, 19.

Mrs. Frances I. Starcher, Portland, was killed almost instantly near Tonopah, Nev., Sunday when she was thrown from her car as it ran out of control after striking a ditch.

In 1917, Congress passed a law requiring literacy tests to limit immigration.

THE BREAKING

prevent
THIS

You can join in the fight to prevent forest fires by getting the breaking habit . . . snap a match in two before you throw it away.

Then you know it can't possibly start a fire which may destroy thousands of trees and contribute to our annual $40,000,000 forest fire toll. This is important, whether trees are large or small for young seedlings are our forests of the future.

Keeping Oregon Green is a task for all, for forests contribute greatly to our comfort and security. Protect them.
