In The Armed SERVICES

3RD BOMBARDMENT WING, Japan — Eighteen Communist supply trucks were destroyed or damaged recently by a night flying Fifth air force B-26 piloted by 1st Lt. Dale E. Borgen, from 102 Roberts St., Roseburg.

Borgen and his 3rd bomb wing night intruder crew wrecked the Red vehicles while flying a night road patrol from Pyongyang to Wonsan in North Korea. The vehicles were part of three truck convoys carrying supplies to the fighting front.

One vehicle was destroyed and five damaged in the first convoy, and ten more were damaged in strafing attacks on the second convoy.

"When we started firing on the third convoy two trucks drove off the highway and over the side of a cliff," Borgen reported. "I guess we scared them," he added.

Captain Borgen is the husband of Mrs. Margie Mae Borgen, 102 Roberts St. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Borgen, reside at the same address. Captain and Mrs. Borgen have a son, four-year-old Dennis Eugene.

A veteran of nine years service with the air force, Captain Borgen was assigned to the Far East Air force in May of this year. Since then he has flown 3rd bomb wing B-26's on night intruder missions over Korea.

HEAT CUTS PRUNE CROP
DALLAS, Ore. — (AP) — Some Polk county growers estimate this year's prune crop will be down as much as 30 percent from earlier estimates, County Agent John Hansen said.

Advanced Training Will Be Allowed Beyond Deadline

Veterans who completed G. I. bill courses in high school or college during the spring term of 1951 and who wish to continue their training this fall will be allowed to do so, the Veterans administration has ruled, even though their applications are received by the VA after the July 25th deadline.

The VA emphasized that the new ruling applies only to veterans who wish to study in college after completing their high school courses, and those who intend to study for advanced degrees in college.

For example, a veteran who obtained his bachelor of arts degree this spring would be allowed by the VA to study for a master of arts degree, provided he was entitled to further training under the G. I. Bill.

Veterans are urged to file applications as early as possible, particularly if they plan to change schools. Applications must be received by the VA on or before the first day of the fall term.

SUE ON NOTE

C. G. and Mary E. Lovelady filed suit in circuit court Thursday against George H. and Jane L. Glamey for recovery of $916.12, alleged due on a $1,000 promissory note. The complaint states that the defendants secured the note with a mortgage on property in the Clover Kerr subdivision. The plaintiffs ask that the mortgage be foreclosed if the money is not paid.

CATTLE BARN — Livestock was brought into the cattle barn early Thursday or late Wednesday. Here exhibitors stay with their animals.

MYRTLE CREEK and Riverside Granges show the fruits of the year's farm labor. Both displays include a model farm, complete with farmhouse and barn.

LUNCH TIME — Brood of 11 of sow displayed by Ed Stritzke, of the Future Farmers of America, takes time out for lunch at the county fair Thursday.
