Membership Card Proves Valuable

It pays to be a Camp Fire Girl—and to carry your membership card with you. That is the opinion of Helen Joiner. This summer, Helen and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Joiner of Wilbur, went to Canada for a vacation. Helen is a talented skater and visits the roller-rinks wherever she goes. While skating in Victoria, B. C., on July 3, she lost her billfold. Recently, another Helen Joiner called the Camp Fire office to inquire if there was a Camp Fire Girl by that name. She had received the billfold through the mail by mistake. By means of the Camp Fire membership card which the bill fold contained, the right owner was located and her billfold and money returned to her. Helen is a member of the Junior high Okiya Camp Fire group. Mrs. George Miller is her guardian.

rolled off a truck on to a car near here Friday, killing a child. He was the 15-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Mollis, Glenview, Ore., riding in their car. He died at Josephine general hospital. The Mollis and a daughter were not injured in the mishap which occurred on the Pacific highway intersection near Merlin north of here. Ten of the 59 judges who signed the death warrant of Charles I were executed at the Restoration in 1650.

More Equipment Added To School

New equipment at Camas Valley school includes 45 full length lockers for the use of the high school students, numerous reference books for the library and a child climb for the playground.

Marlin Yoder, superintendent-principal reports that all the school rooms have been repainted in pastel shades and the lavatory facilities in the primary school have been increased. A R. "Blue" Spencer, school custodian, is in charge of the summer work.

A dictionary stand and a magazine rack have been added to the library, and bookcases and shelves have been built in the first and second grade rooms. A new set of encyclopedias for the elementary school has been ordered. The radiators have been removed from the ceiling of one of the basement rooms and an overhead circulating fan heat is being provided. New front doors have also been ordered and will be installed soon.

STILL SMILING after a grueling 400-yard freestyle victory in the Southern Oregon swim meet Saturday night, Virginia Pietz of Multnomah Athletic club added enough points in this race to become the top woman swimmer of the meet.

He will receive 14 weeks training [taught seamanship, fire fighting, at San Diego, Calif., and will be gunnery and naval lore.

I'd Like to Know...

You may have heard that a suit has been filed by the Anti-trust Division in Washington to break up Standard of California as well as six other West Coast oil companies. This action has prompted many inquiries about our methods and policies. We welcome these inquiries. We believe that the better you know us, the better you can understand how we fit into the American system. We answer all letters individually, but some points seem of general interest. We take this way of discussing them for everyone. If you have a question, write:

"What happens when Standard men go into the armed forces?"

One question on many people's minds these days is how military service may affect themselves or people they know... their jobs, their family security. People ask us, of course, about what happens to employees of Standard Oil Company of California. The answer shows what a big company can do. Standard Oilers come through this trying period in better financial shape than you might expect:

Let's take for example Bill, an average young Standard Oiler. As a mechanic with the Company, he makes $368 a month. Among other benefits he has company-paid life insurance worth $4,420 and a pension plan paid for partly by Standard, partly by himself.

Now, suppose Bill is called into the armed forces. One of the tough problems he might face is a lower income for his family. But, because Bill qualifies as to dependents and length of service with the Company, he'll be helped by a plan Standard has for him.

When Bill leaves for active duty, he's given an extra month's salary. Then, every month, Standard sends his family a check to make up the difference between his military pay and his Company pay. These checks can amount to as much as half his regular salary.

Moreover, Bill's Company life insurance and pension are carried right along. The insurance is still paid for entirely by Standard. The pension, which Bill paid for in part while he was working, will continue to grow... and now Standard of California pays it all.

When Bill comes back from military service, his job is waiting and all his benefits are intact. He finds that Standard, having big economic resources, can and does act to preserve the human resources of the nation... and people like himself and his family.

This is Standard's "G. I. Policy" for qualified employees called into the armed forces. We believe it helps strengthen Company morale, and that of the nation, too—another example of the fact that Standard serves you best by being big and integrated.
