Former Roseburg Official Joins Eisenhower's Staff

H. L. (Leslie) McHenry, Port-land, formerly with the Douglas county roadmaster's office in Roseburg, has been named to Gen. Dwight D. Elsenbower's staff as chief of all American structural engineering operations in Europe.

highering operations in Europe. McHenry, a civilian with the corps of engineers since 1934, left Portiand Au, 21 for the east coast. He stopped in Delhi, Minn., to visit his mother and an aunt. He drove his car east, which will be sent overseas with him. He will report at Fort Hamilton, Brook-lyn, N. Y., Aug. 29, to sail for Paris, where he will maintain his headquarters for two years. Prior to leaving for the east, he came to Roseburg to say good-bye to his mother-in-law and broth-er-in-law, Mrs. George Kohlhagen and Edward G. Kohlhagen. He was accompanied here by his wife, the former Florence Kohlhagen, of Roseburg.

and elder. McHenry will serve as technical adviser and consultant and have charge of all structural work for the multi-million dollar military construction work done by the United States in western Europe. He will also inspect American en-gineering methods, airfields, bak-eries, laundries, office buildings and everything it takes to house the American army divisions in western Europe under Eisenhower.

Corps of Engineers on the Bonneville project and was later with Slems Drake company in Se-atile during the war. The com-pany built naval air bases in Ai-aska. He then went with the Ore-gon Shipbuilding company and then back to the U. S. Engineers in military construction which kept him traveling throughout the north-west and Alaska last year.
