SPECIAL EVENTS: Every major phase of the Japanese treaty conference in San Francisco will be heard by KRNR listeners during the week of Tuesday, Sept. 4. Although full agenda details for the conference have not been completed, several "musts" have been set for the coverage pattern of this historic event. President Truman's opening address heads the schedule. The signing of the treaty itself, tentatively set for Saturday, Sept. 8, will be specially broadcast from the conference site. In addition we will have special daily programs from San Francisco covering conference highlights and major addresses by officials and dignitaries there.

Bill Henry heads the group of network news personalities already assigned to this major story. He'll be assisted by Al Berglund, Mel Venter, and Cliff Engel. Exact times of the broadcasts from the conference site will be announced at a later time.

CLUES FOR YOU: The clue contest is still going strong on KRNR with wonderful gifts for the person who puts the hints together and phones the Hot Canary on Night Watch at 10:45 Monday, Wednesday or Friday evenings. Last Wednesday, Miller's offered a sweater made by Tish-U-Knit in the color of your choice. Tonight another present and another contest period on Night Watch.

TOMORROW: From the American Legion hall, just across from the KRNR studios, quizmaster Bob McCari holds another session of Wayne's Quiz Club offering defense savings stamps and cash money as prizes. Everyone is invited to the broadcast from 10:30 a. m. till 11 Saturday morning at the Legion hall. Free ice cream for everyone at the end of the show.
