Kid's Day Stated Saturday, Help Set For Children

Roseburg today joins hundreds of other communities throughout the United States, Canada, Alaska, and Hawaii that will observe National Kids' day on Saturday, Sept. 22. James Slattery, president of the Kiwanis club announced today.

National Kids' day is designed to attract more attention to the problems of underprivileged children and to raise funds to meet these needs. It also attempts to focus attention upon the accomplishments of youth. Most of the 3,300 Kiwanis clubs throughout the continent are also planning observance of the day in cooperation with The National Kids' Day Foundation, Inc., Hollywood, Calif.

For Needs of Youth

"Plans for the celebration here of the third annual Kids' day are almost complete," Kiwanis president added. "Our entire program, which will be announced shortly, is designed to provide material help for underprivileged youth in our community."

Unlike some special days on the yearly calendar, National Kids' day is definitely not a commercial vehicle, Slattery pointed out, and the only ones who benefit by it are underprivileged boys and girls. All funds raised through activities on Kids' day will remain here to be spent under the supervision of the Kiwanians.

Slattery said that Kiwanis International has been active in youth work for 36 years and that this is one of the principal activities of the organization. In 1950, for example, Kiwanis clubs provided 275,088 lunches for needy children and on Kids' day last year $27,218 was raised for boys and girls work.

Need Awareness

"Despite a possible tendency to overlook youth problems because of world conditions and other campaigns, Kiwanians feel that this program must be increased. We believe that adults must be made even more aware of their responsibilities towards children everywhere with increased emphasis on those children who are less fortunate than the average," said Slattery.

By utilizing the promotional facilities of The National Kids' Day Foundation, Inc., Kiwanians here are able to join with millions of fellow North Americans in observing a day set aside especially for helping youth."

Citizens Alarmed At Permit Blaze

A fire-conscious citizenry north-west of Roseburg flooded the Douglas Protective association with telephone calls Monday afternoon. Great smoke clouds were billowing into the sky over an area about three miles from Roseburg and in these fire-stricken days, it was cause for uneasy inquiries.

There was no cause for alarm however, because a fire permit had been granted and burning activities were well controlled. About 75 acres of oak brush pasture were being burned off on property owned by the Ware brothers. It had been trenched and crews were patrolling it.

Dispatcher Wayne Miller of the D.F.P.A. reported that the fire started at about 3:30 p. m. and immediately calls began coming in so fast, he could "hardly answer the phone." Early this morning, he said there was no possibility of its spreading.
