Fashion Dream-Boys Eye Entire Family This Year

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK — (AP) — Fashion is a wonderful thing. And good for business, too. This year the fashion dream-boys have their eyes on the whole family — dad and the kids, as well as mother, who's been a willing victim for years.

No one's much surprised to hear that women are going to be subjected this fall to such things as "the bluebird silhouette" — which means a rather word for bustle. There's the "roll of the sea in the shape," and "tea cozy" evening dresses. The last sounds a little like the old hobbie skirt. And no one wants to keep his mind too long on the roll of the sea.

But the "wide décolletage" is another matter. Men presume this means that the neckline, having plunged as far south as feasible, is now going to take off to the east and west.

Dad's own attire has been a little too décollet for some in the suit industry. They shudder now at the word "casual" which they once welcomed as opening up a new field. The trouble is that once dad got comfortable, it was hard to get him into regular suits again. Makers of casual clothes are well satisfied but the traditional clothing industry is disturbed because an unprofitable number of men have discarded vests, ties, hats, undershirts, garters and pajamas. There's an all-out drive planned to get dad to look less like an unmade bed.

Need Buyers There's quite a hassle over several vital issues. Should men be soft shouldered or padded shouldered? The clothing industry debates this fiercely — but mostly would be glad to settle for either or both, if only men would just buy more suits.

Then there's the revival of the side vent in coats, and the outside ticket pocket. Younger men hail that as a new fashion.

And now a storm is brewing between the small-hat and the big-hat boys, with sectional lines being drawn. You might think a gent could choose his hat to suit the cut of his features. But, no, about the middle of August a flight of new lightweight felt hats descended upon city stores. They're abbreviated with narrow ribbons, and your head and features better fit.

Oh, yes, one last thing about dad.

Several stores are planning to stress "masculine cosmetic" bars for the Christmas trade.

Yep, fashion is a wonderful thing.

Plans for a dinner meeting at Carl's Haven Sept. 19, with Genevieve Morgan, Zonta District Governor, as guest speaker, were discussed. The club voted to supply 25 tickets to needy children wishing to attend the Shrine circus.

Gladys Foley was elected as the club's new secretary as Mrs. Jack Smith is resigning because of other obligations.

Idleld Park

By MRS. ARTHUR M. SELBY

Mr. and Mrs. Syd Comfort made a weekend trip to Montecito, Wash., returning Syd's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Comfort, to their home there after a two weeks visit. The Comforts purchased seven paintings from Col. W. Raborg. Three of the pictures depicting the logging and sawmill operations of the Douglas County Lumber Co., were painted on order of Mr. Comfort to be hung in the Roseburg offices of the company of which Comfort is co-owner. The other four paintings were selected for their North Umpqua home, which they recently purchased.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Waddell of Oakland, Calif., have purchased the Idleld cabin owned by Stewart Carlinger, which they plan to remodel and use as a summer home. Mr. Waddell owns a chain of barber shops in Oakland, Calif., and property at Klamath Falls. The Carlingers formerly owned the Idleld Park cabins. They moved to Dry Creek, ten miles above Steamboat, and built a grocery store which they are now operating.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Landers of Springfield spent the weekend visiting Mrs. Landers' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Losee. They also were guests at the Turner-Rutter wedding in Roseburg on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kane have leased the former Comfort home and are moving from Mac's place where they have lived for the past four years. Kane is employed by the Douglas County Lumber Co.
