work he has done. John Spencer, Frank Denton, Cleo Tipton and Henry Cook were given a vote of thanks for their contributions as officers the past year. General Pierce, civilian defense officer for this area, gave a speech on the part the posse would play in civilian defense.

Two Oregon Players Injured In Last Tilt

EUGENE — (AP) — Oregon lost two halfbacks in shellacking Arizona 39-21 in an intersectional football game here Saturday. Tom Lyon suffered knee and back injuries and Ray Karnofski was sidelined with a dislocated elbow. Doctors said they will miss next Saturday's college of Pacific game at Stockton, Calif., and may be out for three weeks.

Oregon Contractor Killed In Truck Crash

BAKER — (AP) — A Baker heavy construction contractor, Paul F. Montgomery, 47, was killed Thursday in a truck accident near Halfway. Montgomery apparently lost control of his truck and trailer on downgrade while hauling a tractor from one ranch to another, according to Sheriff Fred Thom and state police. Montgomery jumped or was thrown from the truck and was pinned beneath the rear wheels when the vehicle finally stopped in a ditch at the bottom of the grade.

Confederate Battle Flag Vies With Old Glory In Present Day Popularity

By BEM PRICE

ATLANTA — (AP) — Grandpa always said "when they don't brea!, infiltrate," and be durned if we ain't got them Yankees flying the Confederate battle flag.

It's taken nigh onto 90 years, sub, but we're gonna win that war yet.

And that grand old battle flag, which grandpop tearfully saw surrendered at Appomattox, can be had in supermarkets along with the groceries for 39 cents.

In fact, the battle flag can be had on neckties, cuff links, caps, T-shirts and decals.

It is flaunted from the radio areals of cars, flag poles, pasted on car windows, mounted on staffs and flown from the fenders of U. S. army trucks and jeeps.

If this be treason, sub, make the most of it.

It has even invaded the north. It paraded jauntily down Broadway in New York this summer, flown by the grey-clad band of the Dixie (31st) division.

Grandpap would have liked that sight. He never could get it beyond a place in Pennsylvania called Gettysburg and that was way back in '63.

Things have come to such a pass in Dixie that federal office buildings appear as the last outpost of union strength.

There was a rumor for a time that more Confederate battle flags—not to be confused with the "Stars and Bars"—were being sold in the United States than the "Stars and Stripes."

The nation's biggest flag maker, Annin & Company of New York, says this is a Confederate canard.

Reactions Varied

Anyhow, the resurgence of the once feared flag has produced various reactions.

Some diehard Federalists see it as a dark, Dixiecrat plot to undermine the union.

Some "States Righters" see it as a protest against President Truman.

Some native born, unreconstructed rebels see it as a travesty on the sacred memory of those gallant members of the glorious army that fought for "the lost cause."

The New York Times commented that it made a good souvenir for all those Yankees who vacationed away down south in Dixie.

Ernest Rogers, columnist for the Atlanta Journal, observed that it was a mighty decorative flag and looked better than anything else, say a squirrel's tail, on automobiles.

Likely Of Fraternity Origin

George Wilson and Aldo Forte, assistant coaches of the Detroit Lions football team, were teammates on the Chicago Bears in the 1940's.

Swedish Officer Admits He Sold Secrets To Soviet

STOCKHOLM, Sweden — (AP) — Hilding Ernst Andersson, 42, flag engineer in the Swedish navy, admitted in court here he sold important military information to the Soviet embassy.

Andersson, who was attached to the naval station at Stockholm, was arrested recently on suspicion of military spying for Russia. He testified in court that he gave the Russians details on the Swedish navy's armament, equipment and defense preparations. He said he also sold information, photos and sketches concerning defense installations.

In connection with the case, Sweden has ordered a Russian embassy employee, N. P. Orlov, 25, to leave the country.

Jim Martin and Leon Hart, Detroit Lions football stalwarts, are former Notre Dame Gridiron captains.
