Sen. Taft Urged To Announce His Presidency Aim

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator Brewster (R-Me) says he feels Senator Robert A. Taft should announce fairly soon that he is a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination. He said he will urge the Ohioan to do so.

Taft has arranged to meet with David Ingalls and Ben Tate, friends who have been sounding out sentiment across the country. He has said his decision whether to announce formally for the nomination will hinge in large part on their findings.

But Jack Martin, Taft's administrative assistant, said the senator will not announce that decision just yet.

Brewster, a Taft supporter, told a reporter that ordinarily it is not good strategy for a candidate to announce too soon, but he said he thinks the situation now calls for an early announcement by Taft.

Brewster has contended that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, prominently mentioned with Taft as a possible GOP nominee, is indispensable in Europe, where he is building up the West's defenses and that he expects the general to stay with that job.

Taft's office has issued a statement which supported widespread speculation he will again seek the GOP nomination actively, as he has done unsuccessfully twice in the past.

The statement said the senator has received more than 1,150 messages from Republicans all over the country and that they "indicate a widespread grassroots desire to see Senator Taft announce his candidacy."

The Ohio state Republican central and executive committee, meeting in Columbus, urged Taft to throw his hat in the ring. It said he "qualifies by actual performance as the best vote-getter in the Republican party today."

False Teeth Defense Against Biting Charge

SAN FRANCISCO — (AP) — Martha Stelling refuses to hire a lawyer — she figures she has a perfect defense.

A tenant, Emma Smith, is suing her for $10,500 damages, claiming Mrs. Stelling bit her. The two elderly women had an argument over whether the rent check or the recent receipt should change hands first.

Mrs. Stelling testified Mrs. Smith called her a Communist, and Mrs. Smith testified she only said Mrs. Stelling acted like a Communist. Mrs. Stelling appeared as her own counsel in court. She told the judge every lawyer she contacted insisted their own physicians examine Mrs. Smith.

"Why should I pay for that when I didn't bite her," Mrs. Stelling declared. It was impossible, she added: "I have false teeth." The case continues today.

Officials Oppose Plans To Build Electric Plants

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Opposition to the Interior department's plan to build eight fuel-burning electric generating plants in the Pacific Northwest developed within the house Public Works committee Monday.

Six members of the committee, five Republicans and one Democrat, prepared a report which Rep. Dondero (R-Mich) said questioned motives of the department in supporting the program.

A bill authorizing the secretary of the Interior to construct the plants was approved by a majority of the committee last week. Dondero, ranking Republican on the committee, said the minority group doubted that the steam generating plants are necessary for national defense, as claimed by the Interior department. The report listed six objections to the proposal. Dondero said Cowlitz river hydroelectric projects planned by the city of Tacoma and a private utility would produce 580,000 kilowatts of power for the Northwest. The projects would accomplish the same firming up purpose for the Northwest power pool as the 400,000 kilowatt projects the government proposes to build, and at no expense to the government, Dondero said. He said there are "grave doubts" whether the Interior department has not "deliberately obstructed" efforts to get licenses for the projects.

What resources of fuel for the proposed plants is available. Whether the "prospective Northwest defense production crisis is not artificial and bureaucratically inspired."

Whether the aluminum companies that benefit from cheap government power in the Pacific Northwest shouldn't build their own steam plants.

Whether sufficient efforts have been made to locate industries in gas producing areas of the Southwest before starting new production in the "power-starved" Pacific Northwest.

Reps. Wood (R-Idaho), Fallon (D-Md), Vursell (R-Ill), McGregor (D-Ohio) and Beall (R-Md) joined Dondero in the protest.

The oath prescribed for a President taking office is outlined in Section 1 of Article III of the U. S. Constitution.

The Michigan Republican said the group also wanted to know:

Columbus' Descendant On Way To United States

NEW YORK — (AP) — Christopher Columbus discovered America Wednesday, two days ahead of time.

The history books say he got here on Oct. 12.

But the modern Columbus, a 26-year-old Spanish duke and naval lieutenant, beat the traditional landing date.

A direct descendant and namesake of the man who first sailed to this country in 1492, he's on his way to Washington to be guest of the Spanish embassy at its celebration Friday of the discovery of America.

took 21 hours, which is probably what helped put him ahead of the schedule of the original Columbus, who made it in 70 days on the ship Santa Maria.

And this time, there were no mutinies by the crew.
