GLIDE WILDCATS—Pictured above is the Glide six-man football squad that has been showing unexpected power this season. Coach Harvey M. Stroud, kneeling, far right, said he had only one returning letterman, but the players have displayed the enthusiasm for a winning team. Nearly every game they have been considered the underdog, but they have scored three victories and lost one. There are only three seniors on the squad, and Stroud predicts a powerful team next year. From left to right: top row, Henry Hurlbut, Jack Lambright, Bill Townsend, Larry Ball, L. Ramsey, Bob McEwen, Don Wade, Vern S. Dykstra and Charles Marier. Second row, Leroy Jones, Bill Stedman, Myron Babb, Richard Gardner, Skp Mullins and Gerry Coats. Bottom row, Grant Mc-

Huskies Favored In Stanford Clash

By RUSS NEWLAND

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Coast conference football championship race, as well as progress toward the Rose Bowl, slipped another lap tomorrow.

Stanford stakes its unsullied record and possible Bowl future against a strong Washington team that still cannot be counted out of the chase. The Indians have a 2-0 league ranking and Washington 1-1.

On its home field at Seattle, Washington always is tough and professional odds makers have established it a six-point favorite to hand Stanford its first setback in six games.

Beavers Become Object
California, the beaten champion, hopes to bounce back into the running in its Berkeley engagement with the bulky Oregon State aggregation.

provement since he appeared here last year. Though he still lacks experience, the youngster will give the hoodlum something to do while he is in the ring.

Kurt Von Poppenheim and a newcomer, Gino Nicolini, will square off in the opening bout. Nicolini hails from Buffalo, N. Y., and he is a fast, clean wrestler.

Kurt has been a sensation on television in the Puget Sound area. He has grown a goatee and enters the ring with an Iron cross dangling from his robe. A monacle gives him the appearance of a German baron.

Tickets are on sale at Powell's.

Championship Battle Heads Mat Card

Carl Engstrom will return to the Roseburg armory arena Saturday night to meet Pacific Coast Champion Fank Stojack in the main wrestling bout.

The handsome Chicago lad, who whipped Knox, O'Reilly and Bruno in successive weeks, was promised a crack at the championship several weeks ago but Matchmaker Elton Owen had some difficulty signing Stojack.

Owen had to bid high to arrange the match, and he promises plenty of action when the two superb grapplers enter the ring at 8:30. It will be their first meeting and both will be relying heavily on airplane spins.

Avid wrestling fans, admitting the champion's ability, say that Engstrom has a better than average chance of upsetting him. The 24-year-old grappler, who was formerly a professional dancer, is fast, agile and tough.

Wanted More

Stojack an outstanding football star at Washington State college, has dropped a few decisions to men like Leo Wallick, but he has always regained his title. When he was approached about a match with Engstrom he immediately asked for a larger guarantee, which indicates his regard for the ex-university student.

The Galloping Ghost from Hudson Bay will make his third appearance in Roseburg against Lou Macera, a good-looking Italian. The Ghost has disposed of Danno McDonald and Dan Dugan and fans are beginning to yell for tougher competition.

Macera has shown marked im-
