Baby No. 1 Born in Car, 2nd At Stairway Head

SPOKANE — (AP) — A young mother whose first baby was born in a police car Wednesday gave birth to her second at the head of a hotel stairway.

"This can't happen again," said Mrs. E. K. Desparois, 23, as she was carried from an apartment on a stretcher. But it did. With two policemen and an emergency hospital steward attending she gave birth to a health baby boy.

Officer Warren Sullivan said the mother "turned on the sun — she radiated" when told it was a boy.

The father, he said, "was in bad shape — very nervous."

Mrs. Desparois said her baby girl was born in a police car just outside a Cleveland hospital.

Delegations Expected At Special Elks Conclave

Delegations from Klamath Falls, Ashland, Medford, Grants Pass and Coos Bay are expected to attend a special meeting of the Roseburg Elks lodge Nov. 20.

The highlight of the meeting is a visitation by the grand exalted ruler, Howard R. Davis, national head of the BPOE. This will be the first visit of a G.E.R. to the Roseburg lodge since its institution in 1896.

Ed Nolte, exalted ruler of the local lodge, has appointed the following committees: publicity, Paul Ryan, Gordon Carlson and Franklyn Voyt; banquet, Robert Simmons, Frank Wickham, Alton Darios and the Lady Elks.

Welcoming, Chet Thompson, Walt Allen, Al Fiegel and Herbert Groves; gifts, Roland West, Dick Stark and Walt Olschied.

Meat Sales Above Price Tops Draw Fines To Butchers

SPOKANE — (AP) — Another Spokane butcher was found guilty Tuesday of selling meat over the ceiling price. He was fined $50. A meat cutter drew a $25 fine on a similar charge Monday.

Tuesday's defendant, Lewis A. Mastro of the Sigman's market, was accused of selling cube steak for $1.10 last August to an agent of the Office of Price Stabilization. The ceiling price was 71 cents. Mastro entered a plea of nolo contendere. Federal Judge Sam Driver held him guilty.

These were the first cases brought to the court in the country under OPS regulations.

Two other defendants, Robert Hamilton and former manager Hazel B. Bruce of the defunct Burkhardt's market, have pleaded guilty and Judge Driver continued their cases until Nov. 29.

Hamilton's attorney argued that Hamilton had been "induced and persuaded" by OPS agents to sell them meat over the ceiling price.

An OPS agent, Robert Latendresse, testified he told a false story to "get service" from meat-

Senator James Duff May Speak in Portland

PORTLAND — (AP) — Sen. James Duff (R-Penn.), one of the foremost backers of Gen. Eisenhower for the Republican presidential nomination, probably will speak in Portland Dec. 8.

Don Eva, president of the Oregon Republican clubs, said that Sen. Wayne Morse had telephoned him that Duff had tentatively agreed to come to Portland to address the clubs' state convention.

If necessary, the convention date will be changed to accommodate Duff's schedule, Eva said.

New Liquor Board Dept. Aide Named By McKay

SALEM — (AP) — Prof. Stanley Williamson, head of the science education department at Oregon State college, was appointed by Governor McKay to the temperance and rehabilitation division of the state liquor commission.

He succeeds Dr. Franklin R. Zeran, Corvallis.

Latendresse said he asked Park for better meat than was on display because a serviceman was coming to his house for dinner. He said Park brought out meat he said was priced at $1.90 a pound. The ceiling price was $1.37.

The market manager gave Latendresse a refund when he demanded a receipt, the agent said. He admitted the story about the serviceman wasn't true. Park was fined $25.

Azalea

By MRS. IDA QUIRKE

Mr. and Mrs. George Wendroth, of Azalea, made a business trip to Portland.

Mrs. Milly Spalding has been moved from the Forest Glenn hospital at Canyonville to her granddaughter's apartment in Medford. Mrs. Spalding is recovering from a very serious illness.
