

Airliner's Flaming Crash Kills 56 Aboard

plane seemed to explode in the air and a wing dropped off. Then it rocketed down, roaring and spewing flames, whining like a jet plane in a dive.
The remnants of the plane tumbled in a blaze of metal junk into the Elizabeth river at the bottom of a 25-foot, trash-clogged ravine. Then said a spectator:
However, flames shot up again — 75 feet into the air — and the debris cracked with fire.
Severe 20-degree cold — the worst in the east this year — froze hoses as firemen played water on the smouldering wreckage. Their feet were braced unsteadily on the snow encrusted ground.
Only the tail of the plane remained partially intact, jutting like a monument over the blackened, twisted, smoking scene.

76 passengers made safe landings without injury to any one in widely separated mishaps within hours of the plane disaster at Elizabeth, N. J.
At Amarillo, Tex., a TWA Constellation loaded with 56 passengers made an emergency landing Sunday night but narrowly avoided colliding with a speeding train. The plane's nose stopped only 50 feet from a railroad track, and about two minutes later a freight train passed. The pilot said he landed because the instruments showed a possibility of fire. No fire was found after the plane landed.
At Miami (Fla.) International airport, a DC-4 skidded to a landing with its 20 passengers safe Sunday. The plane had circled the airport just an hour with the nose wheel stuck. The pilot decided to land on the two main wheels and the tail.

Doris F. Barney Passes After Brief Illness

Mrs. Elder Earl Barney (Doris F.) well-known resident of Roseburg, died Saturday at the Douglas Community hospital, following a brief illness. She was born at Sayer, Okla. on Oct. 21, 1907, the daughter of Edward B. and Margaret E. Trowbridge. She was married to Elder Earl Barney on July 7, 1947 at Yreka, Calif.
Surviving besides her husband and mother are three brothers, Robert Trowbridge, serving with the merchant marine, Roy Trowbridge of Kennewick, Wash., and Gene Trowbridge of Cheyenne, Wyo.
Funeral services will be held in the chapel of Long and Orr, Tuesday, Dec. 18, at 2 p.m. with the Rev. Vernon L. Klein of the Assembly of God church, officiating. Concluding services and interment will be held in the Masonic cemetery.

Teen-Agers Win Battle

LA SALLE, Ill. — (AP) — Too young to hold salaried jobs, too young to pay full admission price — that's the argument teen-agers used to get reduced rates at three movie theaters in La Salle and adjoining Peru.
The campaign began in a grade school newspaper column. The youngsters bombarded theater managers with letters complaining that although the law forbids their holding salaried jobs until they are 16, "12-year-old boys and girls are considered grown up by the theater managers."
The theaters capitulated. With proper identification credentials, students now pay 25 cents at two theaters, 35 at the third, instead of adult rates of 44 and 60.

Estle E. Affleck, Pharmacist, Dies

Estle Earl Affleck, 43, resident of 2019 Eden lane, died early this morning after a short illness. He was born April 11, 1908, in Golden-dale, Wash., and came to Roseburg four years ago to make his home. He was a pharmacist for the Chapman's Drug store at the time of his death.
He was a former resident of Portland and a member of the First Baptist church of Portland. Surviving are his widow, Dorothy, Roseburg; two daughters, Patricia and Candace Affleck, both of Portland; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Affleck, Portland; a brother, Clarke Affleck, Portland, and a sister, Mrs. Gerald Ariss, Eugene.
Funeral services and interment will be held in the Lincoln Memorial park, Portland, Wednesday, Dec. 19, at 2 p.m. with the Roseburg funeral home in charge of the arrangements.

Memory Artist Slates Program

The nationally-known memory wizard, William Wallace, will present a program in the Junior high school Tuesday at 11 a.m. There will be no admission and the public is invited.
Wallace, gifted with an amazing natural memory, has studied intensively and is today acclaimed the nation's number-one recall artist.
He has been cited by Robert L. and John Hix's "Strange As It Seem" for his unusual mental powers. His remarkable memory has also been the highlight of radio and assembly programs throughout the nation.
In New York recently, he demonstrated his familiarity with entire contents of the Sears Roebuck catalog.
The audience will participate in tomorrow's program.

Former Roseburg Resident Passes At Marcola, Ore.

Mrs. Henry C. Kelley, formerly of Camas Valley and Sutherlin, passed away this morning at her home at Marcola, Ore. The body is being brought to Roseburg for services and interment. Arrangements in charge of the Long & Orr mortuary will be announced later, following the arrival of the relatives.

Bell Ringers Quit Over Attend-Church Edict

SWANWICK, Eng. — (AP) — Nine bell ringers have walked out on strike because the vicar of St. Andrews said they should attend church services after pealing the chimes.
The bell ringers declared: "Although some of us are church goers, we object to being told we should join the congregation. We want an apology before we ring again."
The vicar, Rev. Lewis Roper, said: "The ringing of bells is an act of worship, and if the ringers don't attend church services, it doesn't seem quite right."
The vicar said he's in the market for some more ringers, so that St. Andrews' bells will peal for Christmas.

Labor Dispute Deprives New York Of Delicacy

NEW YORK — (AP) — New Yorkers faced a bagel famine today with only two out of the city's 34 bagel bakeries open in a labor dispute.
Thousands of New Yorkers, who normally eat more than a million bagels (pronounced "baygels") on a weekend, went without the hard dough — nut (with hole) shaped bread roll Sunday.
Bagels, which originated in Kosher eating places, have become a staple breakfast roll here. They are usually eaten with cream cheese or with lox, a smoked salmon.

Christmas Party Held For New York's Animals

NEW YORK — (AP) — Saturday was Christmas day for Manhattan's dogs and cats.
Several hundred were guests at the annual Yuletide party given for them by the Humane society of New York.
And, in true Christmas spirit, there was not a single cat and dog fight.
Accompanied by their owners,

KOREAN WAR MAP—American Sabre Jet pilots won history's biggest all-jet victory when they bagged 13 Communist MIGs in two slashing air battles (plane symbols) over North Korea. Two other MIGs were probably knocked down, the Air Force said, in reporting that no Sabre jets were shot down although one crashed after running out of fuel. Meanwhile, Allied Eighth Army raiders were engaged with the Reds north of Korangpo (arrow), while the battered port of Wonsan (ship symbol) was hit for the 300th straight day. (AP Wirephoto) they gathered by near a Christmas tree in the society's headquarters. The dogs got presents, such as leashes and an assortment of biscuits and tinned food, and so did the cats — catnip mice, and brilliantly colored collars with jingling bells.

Mrs. A. J. Able Dies At Home In California

Mrs. A. J. Abel, former Roseburg resident, died Nov. 28 at her home at 728 W. Islay street, Santa Barbara, Calif., according to word received here by friends.
The Abel family came to Roseburg in 1930 from Florida. They returned to their former home three years later and then moved to Santa Barbara.
The Abels' son-in-law, James R. Denham, was ordained a minister at the First Methodist church in Roseburg and served as pastor at Glendale, Oakland and Brookings, before going to Los Angeles to attend the Bible Institute and then become a missionary. He and his wife had just returned to this country to be with the Abels.
Besides the widower, survivors include a son and a daughter.

MOTHERS MEET

The University of Oregon Mother's club will meet tonight in the home of Mrs. Stanley Kidder, 456 N. Stephens St., for a 7:30 dessert-supper with Mrs. A. A. St. Onge and Mrs. George Westman as co-hostesses. Members are asked to bring gifts or clothing for a boy or girl to be given the Salvation army.

QUICK CHANGE ARTIST IN TOWN

According to reports received today, a quick change artist is staging several shows here daily, Monday through Saturday.
The artist, Cal Wolf of Expert Furniture Cleaners & Upholsters directly behind Richie's Root Beer Drive-In on Highway 99 North, claims he will quickly change your old-fashioned sofa into the most modern divan your neighbors ever envied. He cordially invites you to any performance — no reservation necessary, at 2132 Hollis Street.
Contrary to some reports this upholsterer did not acquire his quick change talents by observing his wife with the baby. His is attributable to experience — years and years of it. Phone 3-3191. It's an ad.
