Price Changes Scheduled
The Liquor commission decided to make liquor price changes every 60 days, with the next change scheduled for February I.
The commission explained that price changes now have to be made almost daily because of rapidly-changing liquor prices. This causes the liquor commission staff much extra work in posting new prices.

prices.
The 71 percent mark-up on wine was reduced to 48 percent, the commission explaining that wine prices are so far out of line that
