STRANGE FACTS ABOUT POLIO

THESE HAVE BEEN MORE POLIO CASES IN THE U.S. IN PAST 4 YEARS THAN IN PREVIOUS 10 YEARS COMBINED!

IT WOULD TAKE AT LEAST 120 BILLION POLIO VIRUSES TO COVER THE HEAD OF AN ORDINARY HOUSEHOLD PIN!

SEARCH OF DIMS IRON LINGS HAVE TRAVELED MORE THAN 100,000 MILES ON EMERGENCY TRIPS SINCE 1948... A DISTANCE EQUAL TO THE MOON AND BACK TO EARTH!

Partial Cure Story Depicted By Polio Poster

Next time you pass one look closely at the polio posters now exhibited in prominent stores in Roseburg. You can't see the face of Larry Jim Gross—but that is part of the story.

When Larry Jim was 16-months-old and his father was stationed at Tampa Air Force base, Fla., the child suddenly became paralyzed from the waist down. Polio of course. Hospital and private physicians and specialists of the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis feared he would die but they pulled him through emphasizing the Kenny treatment. It was not expected that Larry Jim could ever walk again. But Mrs. Gross was in bone therapeutics and regularly Larry Jim was treated at the hospital.

Later his dad was transferred to Georgia, near Atlanta's Emory Hospital where in 1946 Larry Jim underwent serious hip surgery to strengthen his left leg. Then father and family, went to Germany as Air Force Chief Warrant Officer.

Today, Larry Jim is a second grader in the Air Force dependent's school and he runs, swims, and climbs trees. He is supposed to use crutches—but you know how boys are. Later there will be more surgery. That's OK for Larry Jim for then he can throw the brace away.

Three things defeated polio for this kid; his spirit, medical science and thousands of dollars in medical expenses. His parents couldn't have swung those expenses, but the March of Dimes Fund was on the job.

Could this happen to your boy? And speaking of dimes, why don't we make it a March of Dimes!

Residents Unwilling To Retire

There are indications that a good many of this city's residents are unwilling to retire. A local businessman accepted full responsibility for the situation but said he was quite happy about the whole thing.

The business man, Cal Wolf of Expert Furniture Cleaners & Upholsters, directly behind RICHIE'S Root Beer Drive-in on Highway 99 North, declares that when any person retires on one of his luxuriously upholstered divans then that person will find himself unwilling to retire that evening—his divans are that comfortable. The claim of this company is: "We never lie down on the job but you'll love to." Our phone jingles to 3-3191.
