Yoncalla Voters Approve Bonds For Grade School

Voters of Yoncalla School District Monday approved an $80,000 bond issue to finance the first unit of a new 16-room grade school. On Dec. 5, 1951, the school was declared conditionally standard, but a plan of improvement was required to be submitted before March 15, 1952. The Pleasant Valley School was also termed conditionally standard.

The $80,000 will be used to construct the first unit of the building, which will be composed of four class rooms, and boys' and girls' toilet rooms. A janitor's room and boiler house will be included.

A covered play area comes with in first-unit construction. It will also serve as a bus loading porch and shelter for students during the winter.

The boiler house is planned to accommodate a second boiler eventually. Approximately half of the ultimate school will be heated by the first boiler.

Construction cost of the first unit is estimated at $70,000. An additional $10,000 will be required for purchase of school equipment, school desks and seats, roadways and site improvement and payment of architects' fee.

It is proposed that the bond be retired at the rate of $5,000 a year for 16 years. The first payment is tentatively scheduled March 1, 1953. The estimated interest rate is 2 3/4 percent.

Total money required for payment of principal and interest in the 1952-53 school year would be approximately $7,200. First-year cost to taxpayers would be approximately seven mills.

Membership Drive Planned By Farm Bureau

Planning for a county membership drive to be called "Farm Bureau Week" was the main order of business for the board of directors of the Douglas County Farm Bureau, which met for a noon polluck meeting at the Grange Supply Wednesday. The county-wide membership drive will be held Jan. 21 through 27. Its purpose is to give every farmer an opportunity to become a member of the Farm Bureau, said Russ Carey, Dixonville, president of the county organization and drive chairman. Assisting the board of directors in planning for the campaign was George Dewey, Salem, director of information for the State Farm Bureau. Carey appointed the following as center membership chairmen: Cow Creek Center, Roy Snider, Glendale; North Douglas Center, Mrs. Ed Bloomquist, Oakland; East Douglas Center, Vern Shrum and George Thomas, Roseburg; Calapooia Center, Guy Cole, Oakland; and Myrtle Creek Center, Mrs. Art Moan, Myrtle Creek. Kick-off meetings are scheduled for Jan. 22. One is to be held in the north end of the county and the other in the south end. The directors also considered a resolution from the Calapooia Farm Bureau Center providing for a more complete censorship of movies, comic books and magazines. The resolution was directed to the attention of the other five county Farm Bureau Centers for approval or rejection. Plans for the coming tuberculosis X-ray campaign were presented by Deputy Sheriff Ira Byrd, county chairman, and Mrs. W. F. Amiot, executive director of the Tuberculosis and Health Association. Cooperation was pledged by the directors and center delegates.

Evening Classes For Adults Set At Senior High

The adult education department of the Roseburg public schools announces the opening of the second term of evening classes to be held at the Senior High School starting the week of January 21. Registration for these classes will be held in the Senior High School, from 7 to 9 p.m. Monday, Jan. 14 through Wednesday, Jan. 16.

Classes offered this term include: typing, bookkeeping, art, metal, wood turning, fly tying, painting, home decoration, and sewing. Classes will all be held at the Senior High from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m.

The typing class will meet on Tuesday and Thursday nights. Bookkeeping meets on Mondays and Wednesdays. Both classes are set up for beginning and advanced students. Persons may enroll for personal improvement or with job-seeking as their goal. Typing will be taught by Robert Cole and bookkeeping by Orion Simms.

Art and Chuck Allen will teach the art metal class Monday evenings. Persons enrolled will make copper or aluminum items of their choice. Shaping of trays, bowls, planters and many other items is done by pounding the metals into desired shapes. Wood turning will include shaping of wood objects such as bowls, trays, and lamps on a wood lathe. This class, to meet Monday evenings, will be taught by Roland Edie.

For the fly fisherman a class in fly tying will be taught by Hugh Schieuler on Tuesday nights. Instruction will run the gamut from basic operations through nymphs of divided-wing flies.

Leonard Kimbrell will teach an art class in painting on Thursdays. For those who have the desire to express themselves on canvas this class provides the opportunity. Painting exercises will be restricted to work with oils.

For the homemaker interested in building, remodeling or refurbishing her home a class in home decoration will be taught on Wednesday nights. Marian Ross, local interior decorator, will teach the class. It will be operated to consider individual's problems viking into consideration basic principles in color, design, and good taste. Architectural and period styles, textiles and fabrics, floors and floor coverings, walls and wall treatments, window treatments and accessories will be among the items considered.

The class in sewing will be for beginning and advanced students and will meet on Thursday evenings. Corrine McTaggart, former home demonstration agent and homemaker instructor, will teach this class. It also will be geared to meet individual problems with special emphasis on basic sewing operations.

Tuition charges will be made for all classes. Rates will vary according to the type of class, charges will run from $5 to $10 for the 10-week term. Minimum and maximum enrollments are set for each class. Persons interested are asked to register early to assure themselves of a place in the class. Further information may be obtained by calling Jack Brookings at the Senior High School, telephone 3-4438.

Economy, No Tax Hikes Attitude Of Congress

hand from his GOP colleagues when he walked into the House chamber to hear the President speak, had no comment except to observe that Mr. Truman seemed to have "backed down" on previous demands for repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act.

The President asked for revision of the law.

WASHINGTON — President Truman's call for a stronger anti-inflation law brought an "enforce the one you've got" retort from Republicans Thursday. But Sen. Moody (D. Mich.) termed the present measure "entirely inadequate." Moody told a reporter Mr. Truman was "absolutely correct" in saying in his State of the Union message Wednesday that "our stabilization law was shot full of holes" by Congress at the last session.
