Cancer Claims Life Of School's Beauty Queen

ATLANTA (AP) — A four-year fight against cancer has ended in death for a 19-year-old high school beauty queen whose shattered romance with a young sailor touched a nation's heart.

Dark haired, dark eyed Betty Thompson died late Tuesday afternoon, valiant to the end.

To the very last she was stout-hearted. "I am ready to die," Betty told her family Tuesday. "Don't break down or grieve for me when I am gone."

Last May her doctor told her she was incurably ill. A little later, Betty broke her engagement to Tom Amburn, her 19 year old sailor sweetheart of Sioux Falls, S. D.

Master Degree Ruling For Grade Teachers Issued

PORTLAND (AP) — The State Board of Higher Education Tuesday authorized the three Oregon Colleges of Education to grant master's degrees for grade school teachers.

The board in an 8-1 vote gave Oregon College of Education at Monmouth, Southern Oregon College of Education at Ashland and Eastern Oregon College of Education at La Grande the right to provide a fifth year of study.

Previously such graduate work was conducted at the University of Oregon and Oregon State College. The colleges of education gave no degree beyond the bachelor's.

The move was opposed by William C. Jones, dean of administration at the university, representing President Harry K. Newburn who is on leave.

Spokesmen for the three colleges of education, however, argued that the move was needed for the grade school teacher.

Mrs. E. B. MacNaughton, chairman of the curriculum committee, was the only board member to vote against the proposal.
