

Chemical Found To Control Rust On Peppermint

CORVALLIS — Chemical treatment of fields to control peppermint rust appeared successful last year, an Oregon State College expert told the Oregon Essential Oil Growers League Thursday. C. E. Horner of the botany and plant pathology department, said fields were treated in the yellow spore stage. It burned the plants, but good, thick stands came back without apparent damage. The treatment delayed maturity of the mint for two to three weeks, he added. Treated plots produced 34 per cent more oil than those untreated in experiments, he said. A. P. Steeland, Oregon State extension plant pathologist, said a new peppermint disease, called verticillium wilt, had been found in Oregon last year. Research to fight the disease is underway, he said. Dr. Ernest Guenther, official of a New York perfume company, said sources of supply for perfumes were drying up because of political developments in the far east.

Missing Top Britons In Soviet Jail, Report

BERLIN — A diplomat recently returned from the Soviet Union said Monday that two British Foreign Officers missing since last May are being held in prison in Moscow. This authority, requesting anonymity, said it was almost "common knowledge" in the diplomatic corps in Moscow that Guy Burgess and Donald MacLean, the two Britons are in Lubyanka jail, reserved for high priority prisoners. MacLean was head of the American department in the British Foreign Office and Burgess was a former secretary at the embassy in Washington. Their disappearance, acknowledged June 7 in London, stirred speculation at that time they might have voluntarily gone eastward, carrying top policy documents with them.

SHOWS INCREASE

HERMISTON — The U.S. Post Office here showed a $5,000 increase in stamp sales in 1951 to set funds in the way to a new record, Postmaster William Logan said Friday. The increase was 11 per cent over last year.

Six-year-old Beverly Sabin abandons her crutches to embrace actress Helen Hayes, national chairman of women's activities for the 1952 March of Dimes. Beverly was treated at New York State Rehabilitation Hospital, West Haverstraw, N. Y., where she was rehabilitated by the March of Dimes funds. January is March of Dimes month in the nation.

KRRL Dial Log

THE BLACK MUSEUM—Scandal Yard's mausoleum of murder! A functional space, with its shelves and cabinets—its glass-top exhibit tables and the neat white cards identifying time, place and... killing! Tonight and every Tuesday night at 7:00, from the annals of the criminal investigation division of the London police, KRRL brings you the dramatic stories of crimes recorded by the objects in Scotland Yard's "cellars of death"—THE BLACK MUSEUM!

ENOUGH of mystery and death let's deal with a much lighter subject—a preview of what's coming Thursday afternoon on MUSIC YOU WANT, 2:30 p.m. The First Piano Quartet plays the waltzes by Strauss, Brahms, Kreisler, Chopin, Gounod, Tchaikovsky, in short a half hour of the best in waltzes. Be with us Thursday afternoon to enjoy this special edition of MUSIC YOU WANT.

THEY MET IN BOMBAY, tonight's edition of MGM Theater of the Air, comes your way at 8:00. In glancing over the material at hand relative to this broadcast, we discovered a fact about Herbert Marshall that we were unaware of... that's the fact that he lost a leg in World War I. He made his stage debut in 1911 and has appeared in various stage and film productions since that time. Sara Burton co-stars with him tonight, when they vie for possession of the stolen fabulous Star of India jewel. Their adventures in Hong Kong are breath-taking. Hear the dramatization of this story tonight at 8:00.

TOMORROW IN NIGHT "ANDY HARDY" is in these nitches... baseball, that is. However, Mandy Hardy discovers that son Andy is interested in the game primarily because he wants to sell a super spray to the team visiting town. When the visitors turn out to be a girls softball team, Judge Hardy discovers that Andy is in hot water. This sounds as rollicking as his adventures usually are... tomorrow night, 8:30-9:00.

Camas Valley
By JEAN YODER
Reports from Boy Scouts, 4-H groups, Executive committee and Home Economics groups were heard at the business meeting of the Camas Valley Grange, Tuesday, Jan. 10.

The third and fourth leader, announced the potluck dinner that was held the following day, and the district leaders conference to be held in Camas Valley, Jan. 16.

Boy Scout Leader LaMar Ormand reminded the grange of the charter presentation to be at the next social meeting, and the plan for a court of honor to be held at the same time.

Home Economics chairman Brunet Wilson reported the skit, "In a Little Gypsy Tea Room," would be put on for Pomona. She also announced that the standing committees of the Home Economics club for the year would serve for Pomona as well.

Ernest Booth reported for the executive committee on relief work done by the Grange at Christmas. Mrs. Art Jones announced the location for the chest X-ray will be the Camas Valley Hall. The date has not yet been set.

The third and fourth degree set- tlement was given to Mr. and Mrs. LaMar Ormand. Master Lee Wilson announced a membership committee of Mrs. Milo Cloughton, Mrs. Gayle Barker, Miss Judy Counts, Mrs. Tom Counts and Mrs. J. A. Combs. He also appointed a phoning committee—Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Marlen Yoder and Miss Phyllis Crouch.

Judge Counts informed the Grange that the school was planning a box social for Jan. 23, to earn money to send the basketball team to the conference at Ashland later in the season.

According to the secretary's report there are now 80 members in the Camas Valley Grange. Twenty-five members were present at the meeting.

Farrell Wiley, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Wiley, left for Portland Monday to have his physical for the Navy. He expects to be sent directly to San Diego. Farrell graduated from Camas Valley High School in 1951.

Mrs. Guy Moore and Mrs. Charles Crouch lunched with Mrs. Lee Wilson, Friday, preparatory to making out the yearbook for the Home Economics Club. Mrs. William Cunningham, also on the committee, was unable to be present because of the illness of her husband and granddaughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Milo Cloughton and son, Ronnie, have moved into a trailer house up the hill from Wheeler's Insurance Agency. Cecil Kiser, formerly of McCann Road, has moved into the house vacated by the Cloughtons.

The Rev. and Mrs. Weaver began housekeeping in the church parsonage Friday. They were assisted in moving by several of the laymen of the church.

The Rev. Weaver attended a conference of Methodist ministers from the Roseburg area at Roseburg Thursday. Dr. Raynor Smith, district superintendent of the southern Oregon district presided. The discussion concerned the coming evangelistic campaign.

The Dalles Seeks Federal Status Of Defense Area

THE DALLES — The City Council wants the federal government to declare The Dalles a critical defense area. Population increase is expected with the start of work on The Dalles dam. The Council at its regular meeting this week requested the Federal Housing Administration to make the survey. If the survey indicates The Dalles and the surrounding area should be declared critical, the city would become eligible for federal aid funds and the government could impose federal rent controls.

Injured Bomber Pilot 'Talked In' To Safe Landing

U.S. Fifth air force headquarters, Korea. — A B-26 bomber pilot temporarily blinded by an exploding anti-aircraft shell was "talked in" to a safe landing by his navigator, the Fifth Air Force said Monday. Lt. John Grubbs, Brooksville, Fla., was making a routine strafing run on a Communist warehouse when the shell hit the plane's canopy. The pilot was stunned and blinded as blood streamed down his face. "I've been hit," he yelled into the plane's intercommunication system. "I can't see, it's all yours." Lt. Vincent Alessi of Roxbury, Mass., couldn't take over the controls because in a B-26 no one but the pilot can reach them. So he began giving Grubbs quiet instructions for heading the plane back toward the base. For more than an hour the pilot responded to the words of Alessi coming over the intercom. "Down a little... a little and

"Pole stubbers" at work: Inspection has revealed a pole which shows damage at the ground line. Now, reinforced with a short length, it will be strong as new, and we'll have saved much of the cost of a new pole.

LINE PATROL

How we stop telephone trouble—before it starts!
"Will it work when I want it?"—that's perhaps the most important thing you want to know about your telephone. That's what we want to be sure of, too. And that's why repairmen, testers, inspectors and many other telephone specialists are constantly at work to make sure your calls go through. The term we use is preventive maintenance. And it simply means testing and inspecting thousands of miles of lines and cables, and checking switching equipment constantly—on foot, in trucks and electronically—to find and fix any part of our complex system which might cause future trouble.
Your telephone is one of today's best bargains
Few of the things you use in your daily life have gone up less, in these inflationary times, than the rates for telephone service. Even though our costs of providing service have skyrocketed, your telephone calls remain one of today's best buys.
