Moscow-trained leaders, the staff officer said.

It cleaned out a centuries-old bandit stronghold in rugged terrain where peaks rise to 6,000 feet.

An officer who took part in the operation said the guerrillas' "general staff of Moscow-trained leaders had been trapped."

Top Leader Escapes

However, the top guerrilla leader, Lee Hyongpa, was reported to have escaped last Sunday after being wounded in the side. He was last seen climbing over a ridge with the help of two aides.

The South Korean task force, headed by Lt. Gen. Paik Sun-Yup, uncovered scores of arms and food caches in the hills, some several years old.

The arms were a motley assortment of Chinese, American, Korean and Japanese and Russian equipment.

Scout Plans Discussed, Tokens Given Workers

Future goals and plans for scouting were discussed at a round-table meeting of Douglas District, Boy Scouts of America, Monday night at Edenbower school. There were 58 scouters and friends of scouting in attendance.

Charles Friday, former district commissioner, was presented a four-inch statue of a Boy Scout in appreciation of his assistance in scouting last year. A similar statue was presented Roy Crain for his part in training of leaders.

Boy Scouts of troops 133 and 7 and Cub Back 436, Roseburg; Troop 31, Sutherlin, and Troop 24, Myrtle Creek, were each presented tokens of appreciation by Ted Travis for their work in collecting toys for repair and distribution to needy children in the community. Travis was chairman of the Eagles lodge-sponsored toy repair program. Through his committee's effort, close to 20,000 toys were gathered.

Camping program and training courses that will be coming up were discussed by the scouters.

Polio Fund Receives Boost From Rotarians' Program

The March of Dimes polio fund got quite a kick Thursday, and so did Roseburg Rotarians who attended the club's luncheon meeting in the Umpqua Hotel.

It all began when Program Chairman Roland West interrupted the lunches of LeRoy Hiatt and the Rev. Morris Roach and ordered them to put on long women's house coats that he just happened to have with him.

The Rev. Roach's was a little too small so he draped it over his shoulders, thereby acquiring a stylish off-shoulder effect.

Then they were dispatched from the Hotel's Civic Room to the man on the street broadcast being conducted a block away.

The purpose of the club to the Rotarian's polio fund-auction tonight.

After they had left, West took the speaker's stand with the wry remark "that maybe you fellows will arrange your own program after today."

And some probably wished they had arranged Thursday's program after he began his specially arranged brand of entertainment.

Without deliberation, he began asking members of the club to rise and speak for a minute on their business, trips—or most anything.

First Victim Called
Cece Sherwood, athletic director at the Senior High School, was the first victim. He was ordered to speak for 60 seconds on some small metal plates given him.

But he said the wrong thing and West, after a moment's thought, slapped a fine on him.

Another was called, and he talked too long. A second fine, this time a cent for each second in excess of a minute. The next chosen didn't talk long enough.

Wham! Another fine! And so on until time ran out at 1:15.

But a moment before the meeting adjourned, President Arlo Jacklin took the gavel and did some assessing of his own. Result: Mr. West paid a $15 fine.

Lutheran Church To See Pictures

On Sunday, Jan. 27, two pictures will be shown at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Corey and Military Streets, announced Rev. W. Sylvester, pastor. The pictures are "Tammy" and "Torn Between These Two." The first showing begins at 8:45 p.m. and the second at 8:15 p.m.

The congregation's young people's group, is sponsoring the showing. A free-will offering will be received to help defray the costs involved. The general public is invited to attend.

"Tammy" is the story of a little girl who succeeds in winning a stubborn and embittered father to faith in God and active membership in the church. This picture is in full color.

"Torn Between These Two" is an adaptation of a story with the same title which appeared in the June 1950 issue of the family magazine, This Day. In a dramatic way it shows what happens when selfishness rears its head in a family.

On Tuesday, Jan. 29, "Tammy" and "Torn Between These Two" will also be shown at St. John's Lutheran Church, 6th and Kruse, Sutherlin. The Sutherlin showing begins at 8 p.m.

Variety Numbers Slated By Band

A medley of popular selections will be presented in a concert prepared by the Senior High School Band in the school Feb. 6.

A variety of popular favorites, arranged by the well-known George Briggles, will include "Linger Awhile," "Alice Blue Gown," "My Blue Heaven," "In A Little Spanish Town" and "I'll See You in My Dreams."

The band will also present the march, "The Army," arranged by Harry Alford, who is noted for the unique fanfares employed in most of his arrangements.

DRUNK DRIVING CHARGED

Drunk Franklin Davis, 32, Portland, is being held in the Douglas County Jail pending arraignment on a drunk driving charge, state police report. He was arrested in Roseburg Thursday night.

On Nov. 28, 1942, 491 persons were killed in a fire in Boston's Coochan Grove night club.
