

Wayne Wagner Re-Locates Here

Wayne Wagner, former local resident, has returned to Roseburg from California, and has taken employment at Bob Doty's Music Shop.

Wagner moved to San Jose, Calif., with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Wagner, and his two brothers, Roland and Larry, last September. Another brother, Charles R., is in the marines.

Wagner is remembered here as a singer. He was featured with Jack Foster's orchestra up to the time he left here, and took part in several amateur programs in Roseburg. He attended the University of Oregon from 1949 to 1951.

While in California, Wagner sang with two orchestras, the most noted being Clyde Appleby's orchestra at San Francisco. That orchestra was broken up recently to form a combo or smaller group, and Wagner decided to come back to Oregon, where, he said, he "likes it."

Wagner took in the Moose Club dance honoring Johnnie Ray last Saturday night, and also appeared in solo numbers, with Ray at the piano. He said he hopes to continue with his singing and possibly to break into radio work.
