

THIS CAKE WAS LOADED—Eddie Cantor cuts into the 150-pound, six-tiered cake that was a feature of the $2,600,000 party honoring the comedian on his sixtieth birthday. More than 1700 persons each bought $1000 worth or more of State of Israel bonds to attend the Cantor party at a New York hotel.

KRNR

GLENN LEUNING sings tonight at 7:30. Glenn has his own free and easy style, specializing in the ballad type, and semi-classical. We're sure you will enjoy his program. If you have a request, send it care of KRNR, and he will be glad to oblige. If you haven't seen his picture, it's up on the bulletin at the downstairs entrance to KRNR. Girls, he's definitely the pin-up type.

THE TREASURE OF No. 9. Wild Bill Hickok and his partner, Jingles, are victims of an attempted drugging when they try to Treasure of No. 9. The famous two-gun marshal is hot on the trail of the vicious Cholla Gang. Train robbers with a taste for gunplay, when he stumbles into a death trap. Tomorrow evening at 5:30. He is heard each Monday, Wednesday, and Friday at this same time.

TRIBUTE TRAIL is the title. Cisco the star when a certain nefarious character seeks to collect tribute for letting settlers use the only land trail to Eureka, Calif., in his regular Friday program at 7:30. Cisco and Pancho slap leather and trade a little lead before they finally convince the schemer that it isn't the right thing to do. Recently, the Cisco Kid changed from a purely fictional type story, to history-based facts, and we think the listenability was improved by the change.

SATURDAY, an old favorite returns to the network. . . INFORMATION PLEASE. The popular question and answer alter who has entertained both the radio and movie goers with its outstanding guest panelists, will premier a new series Saturday at 8:30 p.m. Regular roster of panelists include Franklin P. Adams, John Kiernan and M. C. Clifton Fairman. John Lund and Cornelia Otis Skinner are the first guests, and each week's broadcast will feature two outstanding guest experts from the professional and theatrical fields. Other guests scheduled for upcoming shows will include: John

SPECIAL BROADCASTS OF PRIMARIES included in Mutual-Don Lee election report. Presidential primary elections — mandatory in sixteen states — are to be extensively reported by Mutual-Don Lee. First of these is the Tuesday, March 11, primary contest in New Hampshire, where a test of party popularity of prospective G.O.P. candidates Senator Robert A. Taft and General Dwight D. Eisenhower is scheduled.
