

Nurses May Be Considered As Self-Employed

Both registered nurses and practical nurses may be considered as self-employed individuals under the Social Security Act, according to Claude E. Dawson, manager of the Eugene field office of the Social Security Administration. Dawson stated that the test as to whether they are considered to be self-employed individuals or domestic employees when they work in a private home depends upon the work they do. If the services they render are under the direction of an attending physician and are primarily concerned with the care of the patient, they are self-employed even though they perform minor services of a domestic nature. However, if their chief duties are to cook, act as nursemaid for children, or be a companion to the patient, they are considered to be domestic employees. Dawson pointed out that the distinction is important because self-employed individuals report their earnings for social security purposes once each year, while the wages of domestic employees are reported by their employers once every three months. The tax rate on the self-employed person is 3 1/2 per cent while the tax rate on the domestic employee is 3 per cent paid half by the employer and half by the employee.

Anyone who has questions regarding the Social Security Act should write the Eugene office for information, or contact a representative who will be in Roseburg on Tuesday, Feb. 19, at the City Hall Council Chambers between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and noon.

communities to help repay federal reclamation investments by collecting taxes to pay for "secondary regional benefits." "Good" Points Cited Engle said: "The first inquiry Congress will want to make is whether the creation of these additional agencies will provide for elimination of any existing agencies or any functions of existing agencies. "If not, then we will be only pyramiding the bureaucratic edifice and in all probability compounding the confusion." The bill, he said, has some "good points." "First, it recognizes basin wide development as superior to the present piecemeal system. Second, it considers and requires payments for secondary benefits, where heretofore water and power users have paid for all."

Three Electrocuted Trying To Save Fourth

DOUGLASVILLE, Ga. — A father, mother and their son were electrocuted one after another Sunday in a futile attempt to save a second son from a fallen high-tension electric line. A third child narrowly escaped the same fate. It stopped just short of the deadly power line after seeing the four members of his family in the Sunday tragedy. The dead were Tommy Chapman, his wife Esther and their sons Charles and Bryan. Police said one of the children wandered into a field where the high voltage line had fallen. As he leaned over to inspect the sizzling line, it snapped across his waist and killed him. The others died in succession as they tried to pull one another away from the deadly wire.

Hoover Report Board Evokes Legion Blast

WASHINGTON — The Citizens Committee for the Hoover Report assembled Monday to mobilize a last-ditch effort at further government reforms before going out of business May 31. Among the committee's major targets are the government's two billion dollar a year medical services, the massive Veterans Administration and the sprawling Department of Agriculture.

President Truman sent a message of welcome and announced he will recommend further reorganization plans to Congress this year. Of the 37 reorganization plans so far submitted, 23 have been approved and one is pending—the reshuffle of the Internal Revenue Bureau.

But the American Legion Sunday greeted the committee with a blast at what it called its "fantastic" and "outdated" proposals to streamline the VA, and Secretary Brannan accused the committee of being "destructively critical" of the Agriculture Department.
