Auto Accident Claim Heads For Settlement

Litigation in the death of Oscar Lee Long, Winston, fatally injured in an auto accident last Aug. 12, may be settled out of court, it was indicated Wednesday in a probate filing. A probate order was issued authorizing Letha Lee Ryder, a daughter of the victim and administratrix of the estate, to accept a $3,000 settlement offered by James A. McDowell, Mt. Carmel, Ill., defendant in the Circuit Court suit. Long died Aug. 12 from injuries received when he was pulling out of a private driveway and was struck by the McDowell car. In making the offer, the order notes, McDowell does not admit liability in the accident. The trial originally had been scheduled for this week.

Defense Bond Sales Increase During January

State-wide purchases of defense bonds during January were over three million dollars, which reflects one of the highest sales volumes in months. A total of $3,026,525 was purchased in all series. Of this amount 83 per cent were in Series E bonds. Purchases in Douglas county amounted to $61,298 in all series. "Aside from the increase in E bond sales, the redemptions throughout the country during January show an encouraging trend," George Luoma, county defense bond chairman, stated. "Purchases of E bonds exceeded redemptions by 21 million dollars. "In addition to this," Luoma emphasized, "only 12 per cent of matured E defense bonds, those issued in January 1942, were presented for payment. Since the first E bonds began maturing in May of last year, close to 75 per cent of bond holders have elected to hold on to their bonds."

Under the Treasury's new extension plan, defense bonds may be held for another ten years after they mature. The interest rate on the face value of the extended bonds is 2.5 per cent for the first 7½ years of the extended maturity and 2.9 per cent if held for the full ten years.

"If bond holders continue to keep their matured bonds, and if redemptions continue to fall behind sales," Luoma concluded, "the Treasury's job of financing federal deficit spending will be made that much easier. In view of the proposed deficit for the coming fiscal year, the sale of defense bonds assumes greater significance than since the end of World War II. It is far better for the Treasury department to raise the money it needs to take care of deficit financing through the sale of defense bonds to individuals than through the sale of securities to the banking structure. The latter method can only help to further the decreasing purchasing value of our dollar."

Benefit Supper To Aid School Bands Slated

Adjustment Need In Financing Told To Credit Assn.

"Money is the cheapest thing available now. Why not save some of it?" This proposition was put to members of the Southern Oregon Production Credit Association at its annual meeting Tuesday by Paul Matson, president of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Spokane.

The meeting was held in the Riverside Grange Hall. Ladies of the Grange served dinner at noon, and musical entertainment was provided by Ed Stiles, Roseburg school band director and two ensembles from the high school concert band.

Matson recommended that a financial interview be taken to determine whether progress is being made in farming operations, in answer to the question "are we borrowing more than we should?"

Adjustments Needed — Because of the high price level it is necessary to make adjustments for individual financing, said Matson. But, he pointed out, since the dollar is considered to be worth 50 cents compared with former values, then operating costs should be only double. If it is more, then the costs are out of line.

Regardless of who is the financing institution, the creditor and farmer should be on a partnership basis. Spending should be confined to necessities and not wasteful purchasing.

Saving will do more than anything else to help stabilize our economic situation, said Matson. The fact money is easy to get keeps prices up. Purchasing power is a good barometer to watch. Savings are the only thing that will restore the purchasing stability of the dollar.

Irvin Patton, assistant secretary-treasurer, Medford, reported progress in the credit association's activities and showed the association to be on a strong financial basis. The government owned stock has been reduced to $50,000, a reduction of $25,000 from a year ago. Loans both show increases. Patton gave the report in the absence of Secretary-Treasurer Arthur Bonner, confined to his home with illness.

Merton Stein of the Production Credit Corporation spoke briefly, warning that the cost of operations is estimated to be higher during the ensuing year, whereas the income from farm products will be on a level with that of 1951. James E. Conn, Roseburg; Melvin Lattie, Medford, and Lawrence Luy were elected to the board of directors. An organizational meeting of the directors and election of officers will be called soon. Lester Adams of Applegate is now the president.

Ralph Arensmeyer, field representative for the PCA, presided at the general meeting and Conn presided during the business session.

Test Run Victors In Hornets' Card Are Announced

Driving a 1949 Ford, Bill Sullivan—with Marcia Lebach as "navigator"—won first place Sunday in a 47-mile "reliability run." It was announced Wednesday night.

The reliability run, a test in which the driver strives to maintain an average speed of 20 throughout the course, was sponsored by the Hornets, a recently-formed Roseburg auto club.

The announcement and the presentation of a $10 cash award was made at a meeting of the club. The award was donated by Billy Mohr's Wrecking Service. Trophies will be awarded later.

Taking second place were Carl Rush, driver, and Larry White, navigator. Third place honors went to Jerry Feldkamp and Dick Mulder, navigator.

The 47-mile course started at the Senior High School, and was routed through Garden Valley, Wilbur, Roseburg, Brockway, Lookingglass and back to the high school. Seventeen cars took part in the race. Judges were Gene Foley, Ron Compton, Tom Paulson and Doug Morberg.

The Hornets, organized about three weeks ago to promote safe driving, now have about 15 members. They plan additional reliability runs later this year.

Six Members Added — About 30 persons attended Wednesday night's meeting. Six new members were taken in and three others were given a "probationary period" to improve their driving.

The Hornets grant membership to an applicant only if he is considered a safe driver, according to Phil Singleton, president. If there's any question in the minds of the charter members, the applicant is given an indefinite probationary period, during which his driving habits are watched.

The Hornets have applied for membership in the Northwest Timers Association, which includes nine similar groups in Oregon and Washington. Dick Mulder, secretary-treasurer of the Hornets, was placed in charge of writing a constitution which is to be submitted
