

Legislators Put U. Prexy To Rout

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Wrathful delegates yelled the University of Maryland's president out of their chamber early Thursday morning in a tumultuous outburst of resentment against his last-minute effort to get more building money.

Dr. H. C. Byrd, the curly white-haired president, was put in rout in an uprising finish to the 30-day Legislature that probably was unmatched in Maryland history.

The storming delegates accused the president of "political chicanery, dirty work in the last hours" for asking for $578,000 in bonds just before adjournment.

When he was spotted whispering to one of them they fairly shook the 180-year-old State House with a deafening chorus: "Get out! Get out!"

The university president took to his heels, off the floor and up into the spectators' gallery.

He heard the delegates vote against his extra money, 67-32.

It was the first time he had suffered a Legislative setback in 15 years as president of the university.

Roseburg Community Players Plan First Production Presentation

Friday evening March 7, marks the date of the first public performance of the newly organized theatrical group, the Community Players of Roseburg. The program will begin at 7:50 p.m. at the new Fullerton School, with Ruth Baylor introducing the "Post-al Notes," a barbershop quartet.

The first play, entitled "The Monkey's Paw" is a one-acter bordering on the super-natural. The second is Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest," and is comprised of one act and two scenes. Between plays, there will be a presentation of short comedy skits.

The Roseburg Community Players is a new organization made up of people from all walks of life, living in Roseburg. The group was formed in October, 1951, with but seven members attending the first meeting. The membership now boasts over 35 and is still growing. Profits from any public presentation are turned back to the club for financing of future productions, because of the tremendous cost involved with the simplest of plays.

New memberships are invited. The Players state that it is unnecessary to know how to act. Each production requires, besides actors, make up technicians, electricians, public relations personnel, play research personnel, director, coordinator and a secretary.

The next Community Players Play is planned for May or June.

Truman Urges Full Foreign Aid Money

we are making with other free nations for peace.

"Third, the funds thus invested by the United States will yield far larger returns, in terms of our own security, than if the same amount were used for our own defense establishments.

"Fourth, the cost of the Mutual Security program, together with the much larger costs of our military services and other defense measures, are well within our economic capacity."

Tough Fight Expected

Despite Mr. Truman's appeal, administration officials expected a tough, prolonged fight over the amount, especially over that part which would be spent to aid the economies of Allied nations in contrast to the billions which would be spent to furnish them guns, tanks and planes.

In his message the President repeatedly emphasized an American role of leadership of the "free world."

He declared "we must show the world that we can meet any crisis, and that temporary frustration will not drive us to panicky aggression or to ignominious retreat."

Even before the message reached the Capitol powerful opposition was building up among the lawmakers.

The Congressional leaders who must quarterback the program predicted it will be whittled down.

The President rejected what he described as two alternatives—"deliberate war"—that is a war launched by the Democracies to crush Russia—and the "policy of retreat" to the eastern Hemisphere.

"The policy of premeditated and deliberate war," he said, "is one which no Democratic or God-fearing people can for a moment entertain."

"The policy of retreat would deprive us of (Allied) armed forces which, if called upon to fight for the defense of their own countries, would at the same time be fighting for the defense of ours."

"It would require us to become a garrison state, and to impose upon ourselves a system of centralized regimentation unlike anything we have ever known."

"In the end, when the enemy, encouraged by our retreat, began to organize the rest of the world against us, we would face the prospect of bloody battle—and on our own shores. The ultimate costs of such a policy would be incalculable. Its adoption would be a mandate for national suicide."
