Umpqua School Opened Following 3-day Close

By JULIA OSBORN

School reopened Monday in Umpqua, after a three-day closure, but the absentees are still numerous. The Scout meeting was called off for this week, and the regular meeting of the Umpqua School Association, which was to have met in the Grange Hall this Friday, has been postponed—probably till the following Friday.

PRESIDENT HARRY S. TRUMAN will address the nation on the administration's foreign aid program tonight, March 6, at 10:30. Don't miss this important address.

ALSO TONIGHT, you can hear the "Adventures of Casanova," starring Errol Flynn, at 7:00. This is a romantic type drama, and while you're in that romantic mood, stay tuned for GLENN LEUNING SINGS at 7:30.

BOB GRANT, evening announcer and news editor, had quite an experience Tuesday. A police escort arrived and whisked him away. It turned out quite harmless after all. He was wanted to address a police-public relations committee as the radio representative. Harris Ellsworth represented the newspaper.

HISTORY RECORDS that during the Mexican War of the 1840's, Texas Rangers fought and defeated the Mexican commander, Jaruta and six hundred of his crack lancers. In the 1870's an even more remarkable incident occurred, involving a brigade of lancers and the man who single handedly defeated them, the Cisco Kid, to be heard tomorrow evening, at 7:30. The title of this adventure, "The Lancers of the Black Horse Brigade."

COMING UP SUNDAY EVENING at 5:00 will be the second in the series titled, "Your Voice of America." This series, based on records from the State Department, will take the American public behind the scenes to hear what the Voice of America is doing in its verbal battle for the minds of men in other countries which for many years have been subjected to the intense propaganda by the Communists, particularly the Soviet Union.

RELAY QUIZ, the only quiz game on radio where the listeners supply the telephone numbers to be called, is still carrying on in grand shape ... you listeners are getting much too smart. It keeps several of the staff busy lining up prizes, and calling the sponsors to inform of the new question and answer. Don't misunderstand ... we like that. It shows you are listening. Relay Quiz is heard each week-day at 2:00 p.m.

Douglas County 4-H'ers Observe National Week

The 1000 Douglas County 4-H Club members are celebrating with the nearly 2,000,000 4-H boys and girls in the United States National 4-H Club Week. And, report Mac Kummer, who, with Miss Lou Owens, is in charge of the 4-H Club work in this county, more people are discovering the service 4-H provides our nation.

Four-H Club work is an educational program offered all boys and girls between the ages of 9 and 21. The 4-H's stand for Head, Heart, Hands, and Health. The aim of the program is to develop equally these four parts of each individual member and so produce happier and more useful citizens. Miss Owens said. Membership is voluntary, and learning is accomplished by "doing."

The clubs are organized under the direction of county extension agents, and the subject matter bulletins and similar material is prepared at OSC by extension specialists.

Clubs are set up on a local basis in each community, with local volunteer leaders in charge. The service rendered by local leaders is often times not fully ap-and the understanding and help of parents, says Miss Owens. Through this help, parents and children are brought closer together, understanding is increased, and the family unit is strengthened.

Impossible to count is the number of homemakers who have had 4-H training as girls. These women are still applying the 4-H motto "make the best better" as they manage their homes and raise their families. Countless men who were receiving 4-H training a few years ago are now successful farmers.

Young people with 4-H training who enter professions other than preciated, Miss Owens stated. But the rewards are satisfying.

Under the leader's guidance, club members are given help and encouraged in developing their agricultural and home economics projects, in working together as club members, and in serving others through community activities. One club, The Electrolites, of Camas Valley, with the guidance of their leader, Mr. Lee Wilson, wired the parsonage at Camas Valley. Similar community service is typical of 4-H club members.

Choice of Projects Wide

The club program offers a wide variety of subjects from which members choose their projects. These include clothing, food, room improvement, child care, home-making, dairy, beef, swine, sheep, farm crops tractor maintenance electricity, and many others.

These projects are home-owned by the members, and through them they learn to work with their hands, how to manage money and time, and how to appreciate the value of keeping records. Members also take part in 4-H meetings, picnics, camps, conference, contests, and countless other activities.

Developing boys and girls through 4-H club work requires the cooperation of many groups

Call out the Reserves with a touch of your toe!

Most cars lead a double life.

A good part of the time, they're running errands, taking children to school, taking women to stores, taking men to work, taking family and friends to clubs and social functions.

It doesn't call for a very great output of horsepower for duties like these.

But there are times when you want a car that can do vastly more, and these are the times when you'll want what this year's ROADMASTER has to offer.

Beneath its proud hood, there's a Fireball 8 Engine—a valve-in-head that can let loose 170 lively horsepower when needed.

And—alongside this engine—there's also an Airpower carburetor which thriftily feeds fuel and air through two smaller-than-usual barrels for normal driving—which means that you now use less gas at 40 than you'd formerly use at 30.

But there are two barrels in reserve—waiting for you to call them into action—and they let loose a soaring rush of power that sinks your shoulders back into the seat cushion, swoops you past a truck—out of a tight spot—up a hill—sets your speedometer needle to registering added miles more than twice as fast as your watch can tick off the seconds.

This is an experience you certainly should know firsthand.

You should also know how Buick's Power Steering* provides a helping hand in slow-motion maneuvers—lets you keep the "feel" of the car in straightaway driving.

And just for good measure, this '52 ROADMASTER also has the biggest brakes of any postwar Buick—the greatest trunk space since spare tires moved off the front fenders—a warning light that glows when the parking brake is set—and to top it all, the smartest interior fabrics that Buick has ever offered.

When are you coming in to look this distinguished performer over? We urge you to make it soon.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Optional at extra cost on ROADMASTER only.

Sure is true for '52
