Banquet Honors 4-H Members For Projects

Douglas County 4-H club members who had successfully completed their food production project for last year, were honored at the ninth annual banquet sponsored by the Roseburg Lions Club Thursday night. The affair was held at the South Deer Creek Grange Hall.

Cash awards of $4 for first place, $3 for second, $2 for third, fourth and fifth, and $1 for each member who successfully completed his or her project and turned in a record book, were presented.

Wilbert "Andy" Anderson, former county 4-H Club agent conducted the meeting, which followed the banquet. The West Melrose Livestock Club put on a skit, and Leron Sanders of the club sang two numbers with guitar accompaniment.

Speaker for the occasion was Earl Britton, Douglas County 4-H club agent from the 1920's to 1943 and now secretary of the Production Marketing Administration office in Eugene.

Britton complimented the Lions on their interest in 4-H club work and in sponsoring the banquet for the last nine years.

He stressed the importance of 4-H work in building future farmers who must learn to produce more food on the same acreage in order to feed our nation's ever-growing population. The population has grown from about 39,000,000 in 1870 to more than 152,000,000 now, and this is expected to be around 100,000,000 by the year 2000, said Britton.

Britton said he had no doubt but that the farmers would be able to feed the people, as men have always risen to the occasion, but that new methods must be used, and it is up to the youth of tomorrow to learn these new methods.

After the meeting, which was arranged by 4-H Club Agents M. L. Kumler and Miss Lou Owens, pies not eaten were auctioned off by Lion Al McBee. The South Deer Creek Grange put on the banquet.

School Problems Talked Thursday At Rotary Meet

Approval of the $1,425,000 school bond issue is a necessity, W. G. Clarenbach, school board member, told Rotarians Monday.

Rotarians were addressed during a meeting in the Umpqua Hotel at noon. Superintendent Paul S. Elliott also discussed briefly current school problems.

Clarenbach said he was expressing the opinion of the school board when he urged passage of the bond issue at an election scheduled March 14.

Increased enrollment was the reason given for the necessity of raising money for construction of additional classrooms, buildings and schools.

The speaker listed as immediate needs construction of a physical education auditorium at the Senior High School and a shop building.

A Waiting List

In reference to the later, Clarenbach said there is a waiting list for students who have made application for admission to shop classes.

Other projects considered necessary by the speaker were:

Eight classrooms at the new Fullerton School to handle natural growth and children from the new housing project in that area.

A separate six-room building at Rose School.

A combination cafeteria and gymnasium at Riverside school.

Construction of a 12-room school near the drive-in-theater below Cloverdale.

Addition of a general purpose room at Winchester School.

Melrose and Wilbur schools were considered adequate for present enrollment, but would require minor additions.

Clarenbach warned that most of the requirements listed were necessary if the schools were to meet state standards and be eligible for state support funds.

Gives Right Arm, Daughter Cured In Crash Of Car

LONDON (AP) — A man who often said "I'd give my right arm" to see his ailing daughter cured lost the arm in a car crash—and she was mysteriously healed.

The odd case, with the names withheld, was described by Dr. J. M. H. Smellie of Liverpool in Friday's issue of the British Medical Journal.

Dr. Smellie said the girl was crippled by arthritis and disfigured by a skin disease associated with it.

Her devoted father tried all kinds of treatment but she did not respond.

One day he set off on a motor trip with the girl and hs wfe. The car was wrecked and the father's right arm was torn off.

Before his wound had healed, the daughter's skin trouble and arthritis had vanished.

Dr. Smellie offered two possible explanations—the cure might have been due to psychological factors or to cortisone liberated from the girl's adrenal glands by the shock of the accident.

In time of shock the adrenal glands, situated near the kidneys, pour out cortsone. This substance our out cortisone. This substance has come to the fore in recent year

The dazed man told Sheriff Harlan S. Callahan later:

"I was crouched down behind the desk when I heard them coming in. I didn't know who they were. I thought they were the stickup men, I guess. One looked like an officer, with—you know—an O.D. (olive drab) jacket."

Three of the officers were in uniform. Only Dodd was in plain clothes.

INJURES HAND

Mrs. O. T. Carter, wife of Sheriff Carter, injured her hand Thursday when she caught it in her washing machine wringer. The hand was severely bruised and the injuries painful, but no bones were broken, it was reported. She is under a doctor's care.

Few concert goers realize the amount of careful preparation which must be made in order to have a musical performance a success. One of the very important people connected with the Community Concerts in Roseburg is Wendell Helm, of Salem.

Musicians on concert tour are prepared to meet all sorts of weather, inadequate auditoriums and uncomfortable living quarters, but they all insist that the concert piano must be in perfect tune.

Helm, a member of the American Society of Piano Technicians, is widely known as a master tuner. At the Pacific Coast convention of this organization, held October 8-10 in Portland, Helm was chosen to tune the demonstration piano used at the final concert.

His faithfulness in making the trip to Roseburg to tune for the concerts has made it possible for the Association to secure artists of the highest standing. During the 10 years he has been acting as concert tuner, he has made a host of friends who find him a delightful person as well as master workman.
