

Truman Takes Rest In Florida

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—President Truman settled down Saturday at his favorite camp to limber up for the 1952 political championship fight.

He intends to stump the country, virtually state by state, in this year's election campaigns, either as a candidate for re-election, or the champion of the Democratic party's national and congressional candidates.

The President, who flew here from Washington Friday, took to the beach for a swim in the Atlantic and a sunbath at the enlisted men's beach of this Naval submarine station.

He plans to stay here for three weeks, unless there should be a change for the worse in the condition of Mrs. David W. Wallace, Mrs. Truman's 89-year-old mother, who is seriously ill at Blair House in Washington.

Truman's close associates think he definitely will announce his candidacy for re-election, or his in-attention to give up the Presidency, in an important political speech in Washington March 29, the day after his return to Washington.

The occasion will be the $100-a-plate Democratic Jefferson-Jackson dinner in the National Guard Armory.

No Progress Indicated In Greyhound Walkout

SAN FRANCISCO—Some 1,000 mechanics and office workers were on leave without pay Saturday as the Pacific Greyhound bus strike continued for the seventh day.

Federal Conciliator Omar Hoskins, meanwhile, announced there is no indication of progress in settling the strike between 3,500 drivers and station employees and the company over wages and hours.

The strike has halted Pacific Greyhound service in seven western states.

As Hoskins met separately with both company and union officials, the company Friday informed the 1,000 non-striking employees they would be furloughed without pay until the strike ends.

Airport Building Bids Requested

The city of Roseburg has issued a call for bids for construction of the administration building at the Municipal Airport, reports City Manager W. A. Gilchrist. The bids will be accepted by the office of Recorder Mildred Hennessey until 7:30 p.m. April 7.

The building has been designed by Architects Freeman Haylip & Tuft, Portland. Plans call for a basic building of approximately 28 by 84 feet of frame construction. It will contain a lobby, baggage and ticket room, women's lounge and men's lavatory, weather bureau operations room, two offices, control room and storage room.

An alternate provides eliminating an office and alternating some space.

The building will have a concrete floor, frame exterior with vertical striated tongue and groove boards, and built up composition roof. It will be heated by electricity.

Interior features include asphalt tile on floors, welschboard wainscot in some sections, remaining walls to be finished with gypsum board, and a combination of acoustical tile, fiberboard and gypsum board on ceilings.

Plans and specifications can be obtained at the office of the architects, 2040 S. W. Third Ave., Portland, upon deposit of $25.

Rogue Inquiries Will Speed Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—Investigation of development programs for the Rogue River area of Oregon will be speeded up according to Interior Secretary Oscar Chapman.

In a letter to Sen. Wayne Morse (R-Ore.), Chapman said a development plan proposed by Victor Boehl of the Rogue River Valley Irrigation Association is receiving particular attention.

The Boehl program modifies the original program proposed by the Bureau of Reclamation. The bureau's program for power and flood control would flood the river, destroying its fishing and injuring its tourist appeal, backers of the Boehl program said.

Chapman said it was the intention of his department to develop a comprehensive program that would give full consideration to the recreational aspects as well as power aspects of the Rogue's resources.

Roy Bessey, chairman of the department's Pacific Northwest Field Committee, is studying other Rogue development proposals, Chapman wrote Morse.

Bennett To Quit If Denied Mayor Nomination

PORTLAND (AP)—Jake Bennett, the storm center of the Portland City Council, issued a statement Thursday that was designed to tell what he would do under various possible election developments.

He will resign as commissioner even though the present recall against him fails, if the voters don't like him well enough to nominate him for mayor.

But if they do nominate him for mayor, it will have to be by majority vote if at the same time they recall him from the commission.

Just a plurality nomination for mayor wouldn't be enough, he said, along with a no-confidence vote in the recall. Of course if the recall fails, a plurality for mayor will be enough.

Bennett, a prohibitionist and anti-gambling crusader, has been in the news repeatedly. A year ago he engaged in fistfights during a legislative hearing on liquor control.

Demonstrating the refrigerator is Violet Sance of the Appliance store, with Mr. Devitt on the right. The refrigerator will come in handy with a three-week-old baby in the house, said Mrs. Devitt, who added: "It was the first contest I'd ever entered, and I didn't expect to win. When Mr. Nielsen called up he had quite a hard time convincing me it wasn't a joke." The Devitts have another son, Tim. Mr. Devitt is a Roseburg city mail carrier.

American Jets Down 8 MIGs

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—American Sabre jets knocked eight Communist MIG-15s out of North Korean skies in the past week with no loss to themselves, the U.S. Fifth Air Force said Saturday.

But the Air Force, in its weekly summary, said nine U.S. warplanes were lost during the period March 1-7. Red ground fire accounted for five, a mechanical difficulty caused one to crash, and three failed to return for unknown causes.

In air-to-air battles the swift Sabre jets also probably destroyed another MIG and damaged eight.

Clouds obscured Red targets in North Korea Saturday. By noon only a few United Nations weather reconnaissance planes were aloft.

Ground action was similarly light after a flurry of Communist probing attacks on the Eastern Front Friday.

Most of the probing attacks hit the U.S. First Marine Division. The Leathernecks threw them all back.

Children Leave School To Watch Store Burn

PORTLAND (AP)—Hundreds of children were let out of Fernwood School Friday to watch a grocery store burn at a loss of $75,000.

The store, one of the Portland Kienow chain, was right across the street from the school.

The blaze started from a welder's torch in the attic.

Manchuria Germ Spread Charged To Americans

TOKYO (AP)—Chou En-Lai, premier and foreign minister of Communist China, declared Saturday that American planes have spread germs over Manchuria. He warned that fliers who are caught dropping germs will be "dealt with as war criminals."

Chou said American planes made 446 sorties over Manchuria between Feb. 29 and March 5 "to spread large numbers of germ-carrying insects."

The Communist Peiping Radio called Chou's statement an official protest. However, it did not say to whom the protest was addressed.

This was the latest in a long series of Communist propaganda broadcasts charging the United States with conducting "germ warfare" in the Korean conflict. The U.S. has branded the charges absurd.

GRID GREAT PASSES

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—One of California's most widely loved sports figures, Charley Erb, was mourned Saturday by thousands who knew him personally or recall his exploits as quarterback on the University of California's "wonder teams" of the early '20's.

Erb led the Golden Bears of Andy Smith to a 28-0 victory over Ohio State in the Rose Bowl game in 1921 at Pasadena, and the next year he was the quarterback of the Cal team that was tied by Washington & Jefferson in the bowl.

YOUR BODY

ROSEBURG, OREGON — These health articles are written and paid for by Dr. B. A. SMITH, Chiropractic Physician, 1500 Garden Valley Road, in the interest of public health and to help you understand the body function. Look for these informative articles every Saturday.

While there may not be a sharp differentiation of the various enteric diseases of children, and these diarrheas are not always local disturbances, three forms of children's diarrheas are recognized: namely acute diarrhoea, cholera infantum and acute enterocolitis.

Age is an important factor. Bottle-fed babies are more inclined to suffer from diarrhea than breast-fed babies. But the most dangerous time is when the child is weaned and changes from breast feeding to bottle and other types of feeding. The average mother dreads the second summer especially if that is the time when the weaning is to take place.

Diet is of course the most important cause. The mother's milk may be unsuited to the child, often due to the mother's diet. The child may be nursed too long or the milk may be too rich or deficient in certain necessary elements. However, breast-fed babies are less inclined to have diarrhea than bottle-fed babies. Increased understanding by mothers of the needs of the child, and better milk inspection have reduced the incidence of these intestinal disorders. A dirty bottle may be responsible. A very hot spell with no change of diet for the child may bring on an attack. July seems to be the most dangerous month.

The eruption of the temporary teeth may be accompanied by diarrhea. Just what is the relation is not easily explained. Perhaps the swelling of the jaws and the pain of the teething may reduce the food intake so that the child receives less food, tends to become weaker, and so cannot resist the rigors of his environment.

In nearly all these cases, there is a bacterial invasion but there is no one species which is always found to be the culprit. Apparently, with the body in a sufficiently depleted condition, almost any kind of bacteria may find lodgement and begin to produce symptoms.

The mucous membrane of the entire intestinal tract may be swollen. The mucous glands become over active and congested, and the submucous coat may be involved. If the inflammation is extensive, ulceration may occur.

The child may appear to be in usual health but becomes restless at night and has frequent evacuations. These evacuations are excessive and at first the consistency is about normal, but as the case progresses, they become quite watery and contain mucus and partially digested food. They rarely contain blood unless the case has gone on to ulceration. If the child has been eating green fruit, particles will often appear in the bowel discharge. Fever may be anywhere from 98 to 104 degrees, according to the severity of the attack. Not infrequently the stool has a gray or greenish color due to more or less bile.

Recovery depends somewhat on the physical condition of the child. In poor families with unhealthful surroundings, and a child with weak constitution, it often results fatally. If the physical condition and surroundings are favorable and treatment appropriate, the chance of recovery is good. (Pd. Adv.)

Pelton Dam Construction Will Be Determined Soon

PORTLAND (AP)—Negotiations between Portland General Electric and the State Fish Commission, expected to continue for two months, will determine whether the state will attempt to stop construction of Pelton Dam.

That was the report Friday of Atty. Gen. George Neuner. The Fish Commission has opposed the dam on grounds it would reduce or eliminate salmon runs in the Deschutes River. If the commission can get guarantees that PGE—recently licensed to build the dam—will provide adequate fish conservation facilities, will not try to block construction of the dam.

But if the commission is not satisfied with PGE's proposals, the state will then ask the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals at San Francisco to review a Federal Power Commission license, Neuner said.

Jilted Lover Requests Return Of Black Panties

NEW YORK (AP)—"I guess she just wasn't ready for marriage," William Sebring, advertising salesman, informed Magistrate Corning McKenney. "Really I'd like to get that stuff back from her."

The 26-year-old Sebring was referring to three pairs of black lace panties—at $25 a pair—and a cigaret lighter he said he gave his former fiancée, 23-year-old Linda Aaron, in place of an engagement ring.

"Well," said the pretty stenographer, "I'd like to keep the cigaret lighter, your honor, just as a token of fond recollection. But if he wants the panties back, I'll give them to him. I didn't wear the panties."

Case closed, ruled McKenney.

Truman Budget Slash Urged By U.S. Chamber

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Chamber of Commerce urged Thursday that President Truman's $85,444,000 budget for next year be slashed by $14,400,000 to bring spending in line with estimated federal revenues of 71 billion.

The chamber said it was making specific recommendations to Congress calling for heavy cuts in foreign aid and military spending. It also recommended substantial cuts in money for federal housing, economic controls, agricultural conservation and development payments and aid to education.

The only alternative to a $14,400,000 cut for the fiscal year starting next July 1, the chamber said "are increased taxes or new borrowings."
