opinion by Chief Justice James T. Brand, upheld Circuit Judge Arlie G. Walker of Yamhill County.

When the check was written, Davis wrote these words on it: "Rightaway for Elmer Bachmanns Timber."

After it was canceled, Davis added the word "all" at the end of the sentence so it would appear that he had paid for the right of way in full.

Davis forgot one thing—banks photograph checks when they are cancelled. The bank's picture proved that the word "all" wasn't on the check when it was cancelled.

Damage Suit Ousted

The Supreme Court also dismissed a Marion County damage suit of John Schukart against P. C. Gerousbeck, conductor of a Southern Pacific Logging train which collided east of Salem with Schukart's automobile on the night of March 13, 1948.

Schukart won $2,000 damages in the court of Circuit Judge George R. Duncan of Marion County.

In the opinion throwing the case out, Justice Walter L. Tooe wrote: "If it be desirable that railroad companies be required to adopt extra precautions at every country railroad crossing during the rainy season, the matter should be addressed to the legislature, not to the court."

The court held the railroad was not negligent. Schukart also sued the fireman, E. E. Bentley, and the brakeman, Dale Fields, but they won in lower court.
