Mr. and Mrs. Avery Roser of Rollins, Mont., were the guests last week of the former's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hercher, in Dillard; Mr. and Mrs. Merle Austin and family, Green; his mother, Mrs. S. A. Roser, and brother, Walter Roser, Roseburg, and their daughter Miss Lanice Roser, who is teaching school in Sutherlin.

Mr. and Mrs. Roser were returning from a month's vacation in Arizona and California. In Woodland Hills, Calif., they were guests of Mr. Roser's brother-in-law and sister Mr. and Mrs. Roy Peterson. They visited in Hayward, Calif., as guests of Mrs. Roser's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Patterson, formerly of Roseburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Roser left Wednesday enroute to their home on Flathead Lake in Rollins, with a stopover visit planned with Mrs. Roser's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Patterson in Spokane, Wash.

Mrs. Besse Lounsbury and children, Judy and Dean, of 501 Overlook, Roseburg, accompanied by Mrs. Bella Holm and Mrs. Vivian Heaters, left Wednesday for Portland to visit relatives. Mrs. Lounsbury will visit her mother, Mrs. Gladys Stafford, formerly of Roseburg, now with her daughter, Mrs. Doris Sager. They will also visit their daughters, Miss Bernice Lounsbury and Miss Mary Lyn Holm, who are attending the Lewis and Clark College in Portland.

Corp. Dick Sager of the U.S. Air Force was the guest of his aunt, Mrs. Bess Lounsbury and family on Sunday. He was on his way back to San Francisco to the port of embarkation. From there he expects to be sent to the Far East. Young Sager, in the Military Air Corps, has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Sager in Orchard, near Portland, since Feb. 20. By coincidence Dick and his brother Robert Sager, a radio and radar operator in the Air Force stationed in Germany, both received their corporal rating within the same week so many miles apart.

Many social functions are being planned among the younger group in the Dillard community for Gary Bault, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Bault, who arrived Friday night from his naval training base in San Diego. Gary, having recently finished his basic training, is home on a 13-day leave before returning to his new assignment in San Francisco, stationed aboard the N.L.S.T. Young Bault enlisted Nov. 21 and was hospitalized for two weeks with an appendectomy. He has now recovered and has received high marks in all of his examinations.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean F. Collins and children, Perley and Andy, returned Monday from a week-end visit with relatives in Klamath Falls. They were guests of Colin's brother-in-law and sisters, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lowell, and daughter, Wilma; Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Cummings and mother, Mrs. Mattie Collins. Wilma Lowell returned to Dillard to spend the spring vacation with her aunt and uncle.

Frankie Collins, older son of Mr. and Mrs. Collins, is vacationing with his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kennerly in Melrose.

Camp Fire Girls' Objectives Told By Local Leader

The purpose and work of Camp Fire was explained to the Roseburg Kiwanis Club, at its meeting Tuesday noon in the Hotel Umpqua by Mrs. Dean Ross, a leader in the organization in Roseburg. Mrs. Ross was one of the early members of Camp Fire at the age of 10. "I loved it," she said. "But it fell apart. The reason—there were no leaders, no sponsors to keep it alive."

After her initial experience with the organization, she did not give up hope, she said. Years later, she started her own 11-year-old daughter in the work, and she found it "just as appealing" as she had first experienced it.

Camp Fire, which was dreamed up by a man, and planned and developed by men 42 years ago, remains basically the same as then but with progressive steps added. Back in those days, at 12, girls' hair went up and skirts down. They turned to needlework and small accomplishments. Girls couldn't play ball or hike, and if they swam, it was with long dresses, shoes and stockings, said Mrs. Ross.

It was to give girls more advantages of outdoor life that the program was originated. Mrs. Ross described the process of Camp Fire, from Blue Birds, the younger group, up through the Camp Fire Groups and the Horizon Club.

Girls at one minute are a small child; the next moment a grown woman. It is to direct them through these periods that Camp Fire aims, according to Mrs. Ross. Indian lore, a part of the program, was originally designed to preserve some of the original American heritage and to work in the artistry possible with preservation of the Indian tradition.

Kiwanian Bob Bashford reported that members of the club will make a trip to Camp Iyee the last Sunday in May to give the camp grounds and buildings a thorough cleaning. Kiwanis members will make a visitation to the Grants Pass club Tuesday of next week. They plan to leave from the Hotel Umpqua at 10 a.m.

After a successful venture with their "galloping" service hour recently, the Massasoit Camp Fire Girls Group has begun a program to give service once a week for a two-hour period at the Douglas County Home and Douglas Community Hospital. One half of the group will work at a time, while the others will hold a craft meeting at the home of a member.

Those helping this week in service were Trunette Phillips, Janice Romine, Judy Barnhart, Connie Bridgess, Ann Greenquist, Pat Niday and Marjorie Gladwill.

Others meeting at Hap Gladwill's home to make felt lapel gloves were Kathleen Mohloff, Jaclyn Warren Lavelle and Hap Gladwill and Mary Elise Unrath.

The following girls passed their yearly rank with the board of awards at the recent "city sing" for all Camp Fire Girls and Blue Birds: Trunette Phillips, fire maker; Janice Romine and Ann Greenquist, wood gatherer; Others taking part in the "sing" were Lavelle Gladwill, Connie Bridgess, Jaclyn Warren and Mary Elise Unrath.
